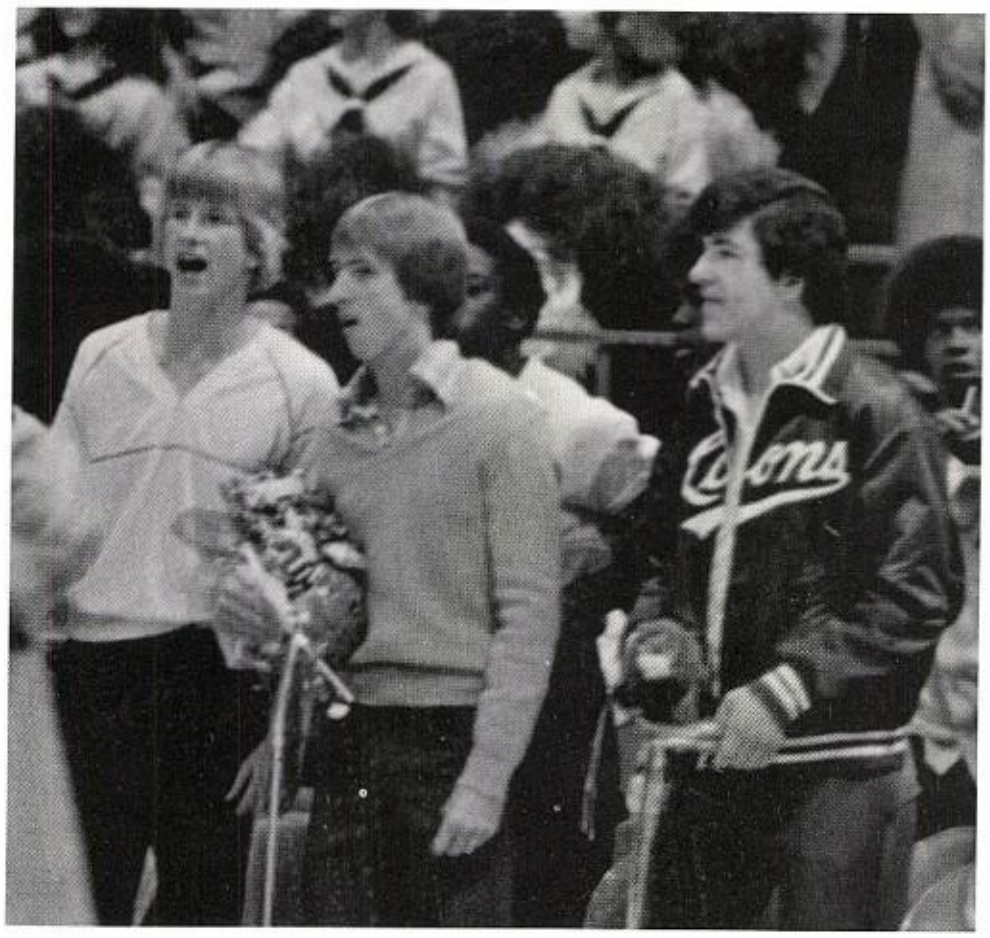
STUDENT LIFE

Unity Boosts Spirit

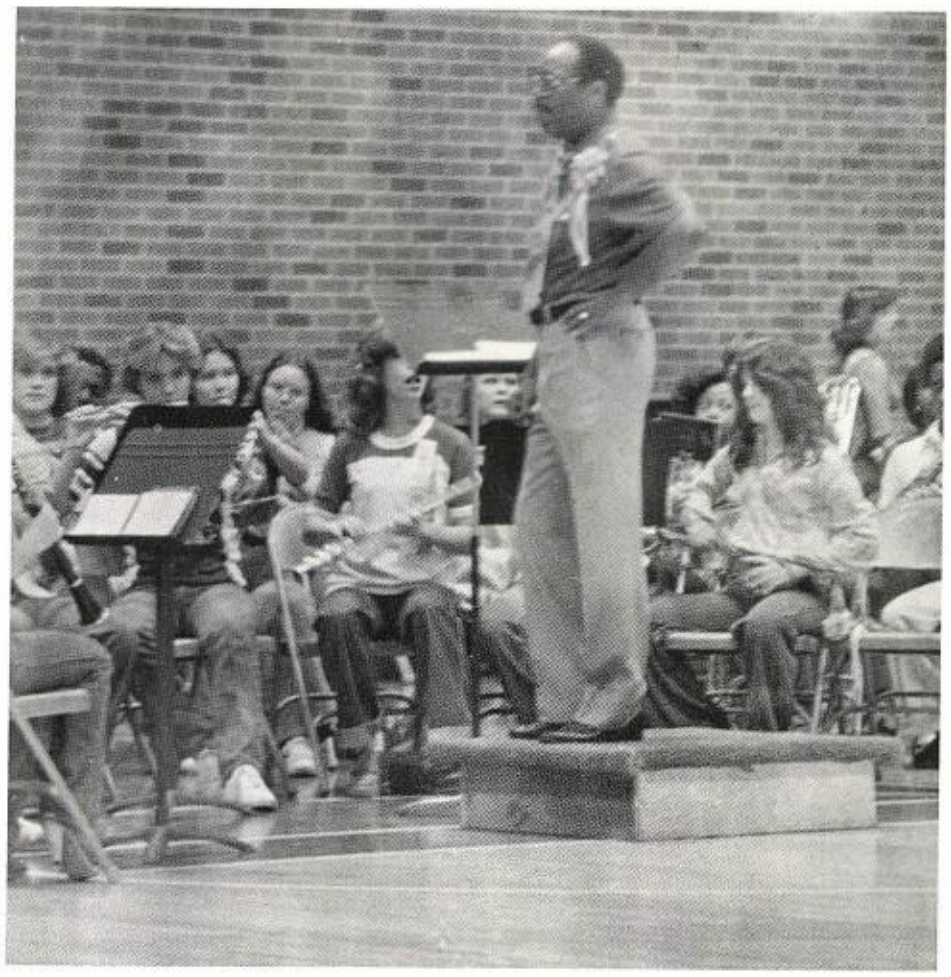
Anticipation of a pig-skin victory filled the air every Friday morning when the student body "got that spirit" as they entered the thundering gym. The sudden strumming roll of the snare drums brought everyone to his feet as the band struck-up "The Star-Spangled Banner." Vibrant cheerleaders bounded onto the gym floor as the football players made a grand entrance through the lines of saluting drill team officers, and majorettes. The deafening beat of the bass drums set the tempo for "Big John" as horn soloists played their individually composed solos. The majorettes, flag corp, drill team and drill team officers performed routines to popular hits such as "K-Jee," "Superman," "Dr. Pepper," "Soul Man," "Vegas," "12th Street Rag," and "Blame It On The Boogie." The traditional John Tyler pride and spirit was kept as its highest as the new pop group, "Dimensions," and the stage band performed occassionally. One of the highlights of each pep-rally was the presentation of the spirit stick to the most spirited and enthusiastic class. At the closing of each pep rally, the sentimental works of "To John Tyler High" echoed in the minds of students as they sang the Alma Mater. With their heads held high, the football players exited the gym as the students pledged their loyalty by singing "Big Bad John."

Keitha Goss, senior, plays his famous "Big John" solo.

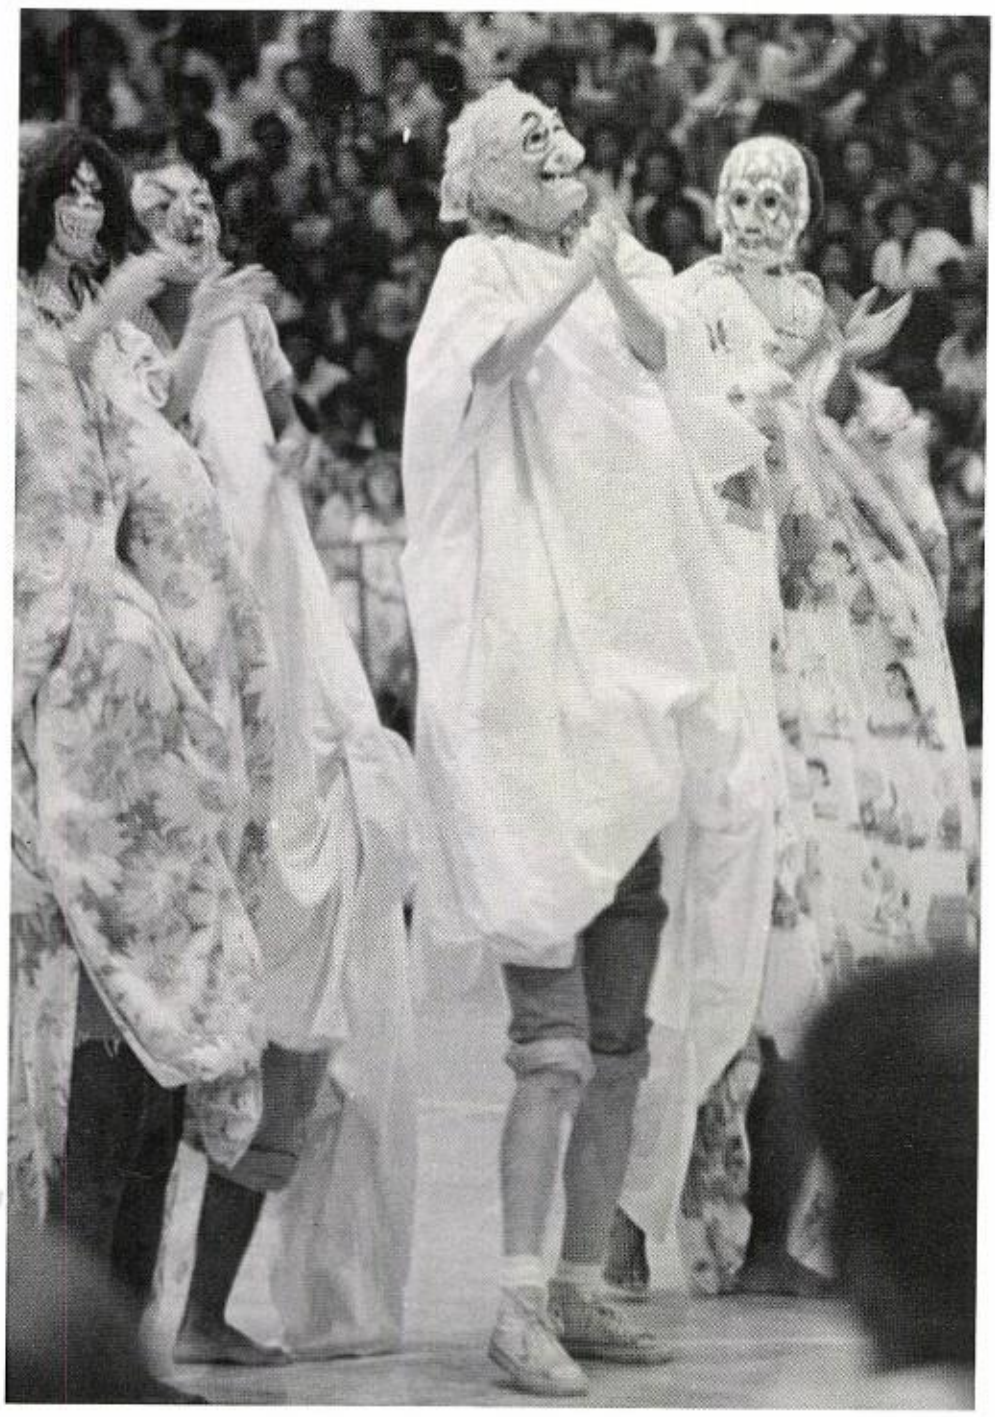
The Pillow People compete in a disco dance contest to the song "Knee Deep."



Junior football players, Bobby Shepherd, Paul Martin, and Randy Wallace: "Pssst, if Randy only knew I took her out last night."



Band director, Mr. Melvin Davis, waits for his turn to perform.



These "sexy-legs" spooked the entire student body during a pep-rally.

And The Band Plays On

"Invictus", "Crown Imperial", "Carrollton", "Olympia Hippodrome" and "Hands Across the Sea" kept the JT spirit high, as the marching band thrilled football fans each Friday night. The blaring rhythm of these marches however, failed to account for the long hours of practice under an unmerciful sun during the many hours of summer band practice. Of course the most enjoyable aspect of the band program was the memorizing of marches and concert music. The marching didn't end with football season. There was still the Rose Parade and Christmas parades to wear out already tired feet. The seasons didn't help either. As the blistering sun changed to icy cold; fingers, lips, toes and noses became the victims of Mr. Melvin Davis' constant drill. But even with these hardships, a few hearty members struck out on their own as they entered UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest held in the spring. As the sun began warming up the earth it was apparent that some would be putting away their instruments for the last time as JT band members. That point was made clear on the day the Sophomores and Juniors insisted on showing their loyalty to the Seniors by singing the traditional and cherished song. "We Love You, Seniors".

First Musical Draws Crowds

"Annie Get Your Gun" was the first musical production performed by John Tyler students. People turned out in large crowds to view its success. The drillteam, actors, actresses, and the choir practiced two long weeks to prepare them for the four performances. The back drops used in the play were prepared by the art department. Dancers for the play were chosen from the drill team. Ms. Helen Jack, drama instructor, and Ms. Ann Maxwell, choral director, were coordinators of the drama and music.

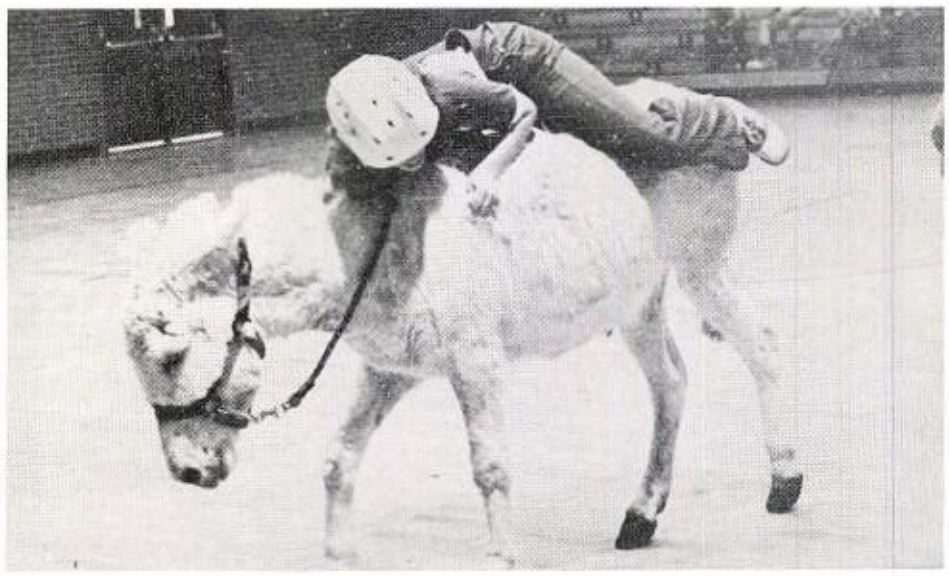
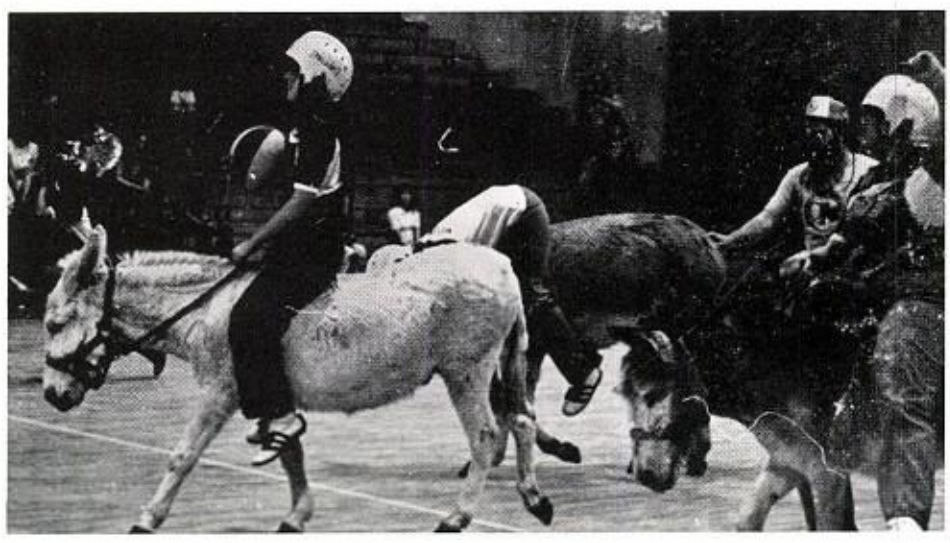
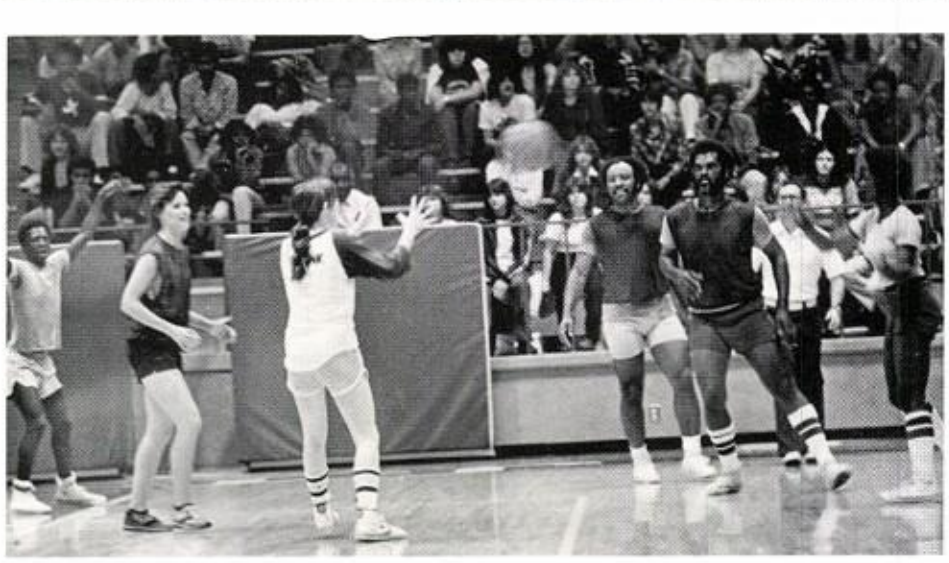
Future Basketball Stars

The annual donkey basketball game was held showing much enthusiasm throughout many of the organizations including band, drillteam, cheerleaders, Ag, and sports. The game drew a large crowd while the donkeys performed stunning tricks. Another game held was the Junior Class against the Junior faculty. The faculty came out on top. This game was a money making project for the Junior Class.







Beauties Capture Titles

Rhonda Glaze was chosen as the 1979 Lion's Club Queen. Both John Tyler and Robert E. Lee selected eight girls to compete for the title of Lion's Club Queen. Each girl was interviewed and asked various questions concerning their personal views, outside activities, school awards and achievements, and educational plans for the future. The judges picked the top five out of the sixteen candidates and each girl was invited to attend a luncheon where they presented themselves to the Lion's Club. Rhonda rode in the Rose Parade on the Lion's Club float. Janice Carpenter was crowned Miss North Tyler "Y" at Emmett Scott Auditorium. She competed against eleven girls from the local district for the title. Janice received a $400 scholarship and a one year membership at the North Tyler YMCA. Janice sang "Evergreen" in the talent competition. She was judged in the evening gown competition and in many other areas. Janice is an active member of the John Tyler Dimensions, a pop group in which she sings soprano. Janice rode a float in the annual Rose Parade and participated in many events during the year as Miss North Tyler "Y".

Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Student Senate Representatives for the 1979-80 school year.

The year took on a new look in the Student Senate as the size rose from approximately forty representatives to over one-hundred members. As in most organizations, confusion crowded the beginning of the year. As time progressed, the Senate began to take shape. Executive meetings were held every Monday morning during Pride Time. The entire Student Senate met on Tuesdays during Pride Time. To further progress, the committee Chairperson met on Thursday afternoons. Hard work on projects and activities throughout the school and community enabled the Senate to become an outstanding District School. District conventions, workshops, and state conventions added to the learning of the members who attended them. As the year came to an end, the new officers took over where the old officers left off.

Majorettes Lead the Way

The John Tyler Varsity Majorettes were part of the sparkle and beauty added to the pep rallies and football games. To gain perfection in their flawless twirling, the majorettes spent many days of practice. After the selection in May, they began practices for the upcoming year. A camp was held on campus the first week of June to learn routines, marching techniques, and fundamentals. The instructor was Ms. Kay Lilly, and this was her second year to teach the camp. Later in the year they proved themselves useful by leading the band in parades, at band concerts, and helped with the John Tyler Twirling Festival.

They performed at all of the in-town football games adding life and glamour to the marching band. The majorettes performed to songs like "Disco Inferno," "The Horse," "Dallas," and "Championship." The majorettes participated in marching and playing contests, concerts, and worked many hard hours for the John Tyler Twirling Contest. The majorettes impressed many people as the first ninth grade majorette line.

There was "Dr. Pepper," "Operator," "Show Business" and "Hey Look Me Over." Strutters Lend Support

The John Tyler football stands were never quiet as the Blue Brigade and the Junior-Senior Squad chanted and yelled in support of the mighty football team. These loyal supporters attended football games, basketball games, and the annual Rose Parade and Christmas Parade. All Blue Brigade and Junior-Senior Squad members were kept busy collecting funds for several civic organizations, writing good luck notes for ball players, and lending support wherever needed. Drill team tryouts were held in May for girls wishing to be in the Brigadettes.

Yearbook Makes Big Switch

Mr. Bill McGoff made the "Big Switch" for the 1979-80 yearbook staff. With a new sponsor and a young unexperienced staff, the school year was hectic. The switch from a three year high school to a four year high school increased the size of the book from last years 247 pages to 311 pages. The added pages made those "dreaded" deadlines even worse. May 29 was the last day of school for most John Tyler students. June 6, was the last day of school for those few faithful staff members who stayed in room D-6 until the last layout was turned in and the final yearbook copy was sent off.

An Active Pulse

The advisory council to the Superintendent really took life under Dr. Bill Carnes' administration. Dr. Carnes saw a need for student input into the decisions of the Tyler Independent School District. Dr. Carnes' encouraged both high schools to intermingle and exchange ideas. The board consisting of six students from each high school had meetings once every two months, various luncheon engagements, and planned various trips and activities throughout the year. Students from the board hosted the Parent Advisory luncheon, participated in the Education in Business Day program, and visited other surrounding schools for observation. The Student Advisory Board, as stated by Dr. Carnes, "is the pulse of student life on campus."

Dr. Carnes speaks to students about the new school behavior policy.

Men Who Watch Over Our School

Attending to the twenty-four schools in Tyler was the main concern for our new head administrator, Dr. Bill Carnes. As superintendent, he supervised all functions dealing with the school district. Watching over the Tyler School system kept the seven members of the Tyler School Board busy. Much time and energy was spent in carrying out the responsibilities, which included attending monthly business meetings, Booster Club meetings, studying improvements for the various schools in the district, and the rehiring of faculty.

Superintendent Dr. Bill Carnes takes his new job seriously.

ACADEMICS

IT Salutes UIL Scholastic District Winners

In Educational Competition There Are No Losers. . . .

Win, lose or draw, there are great values in educational competition. The pitting of one's skills, knowledge and talent against friendly opponents is a means of learning one's own strengths and weaknesses.

Good contests, properly supervised, give youthful competitors the opportunity to gain self-confidence, improve skills, and learn to win with humility and lose with grace.

When we strive honestly to improve ourselves, measuring our progress against our friends, we are raising our knowledge of the limits of our abilities. By pitting our efforts against others we learn how we stand, and we know what we must do to improve.

The self-discipline and sacrifice involved in competition are keys to those same values that will be of great value to everyone in life.

In the best of competition there are no losers.

Twenty two students participated in the most successful debate year yet, at JT. Kimberly O'Neal and Pat Lee were District winners in extemporaneous speaking, while Jacquie Morphis and Rhonda Glaze were fourth in district debate. Jacquie also achieved a first for JT by becoming the first student to win at an NFL district debate tournament. Highlighting the year was the granting of a charter from the National Forensic League and Jacquie Morphis being named as one of the top debaters in the nation.

Striving To Write With Interest

Since its origin, the Journalism classes have strived to write interesting and informative news stories. Publications of the Journalism classes include the school newspaper and the yearbook. The Lion's Tale originated from the first school newspaper, the Blue and White, which was first published on March 19, 1909. The school yearbook, The Alcalde also originated from the last issue of the Blue and White, which was called the Yearbook.

Juniors, Niski Cooper and Susan Berry work on the Alcalde.

Karla Priddy, Lion's Tale Editor.

Senior, Dawn Gibbons works on the newspaper.

Artistic Expressions Gained

Art students look through portfolios.

Students that took Arts and Crafts explored the areas of sculpture and painting. Pens, paint brushes, pencils and paints helped express their ideas and feelings in Art. Students in Art set high goals to be reached, and advanced their knowledge. Students that were out to reach their goal in Art, joined the Art club. Field trips were sponsored by the Art club. Craft classes were offered to the students who liked to work with their hands, which included macrame, mosaics, sculptures, ceramics, and collage.

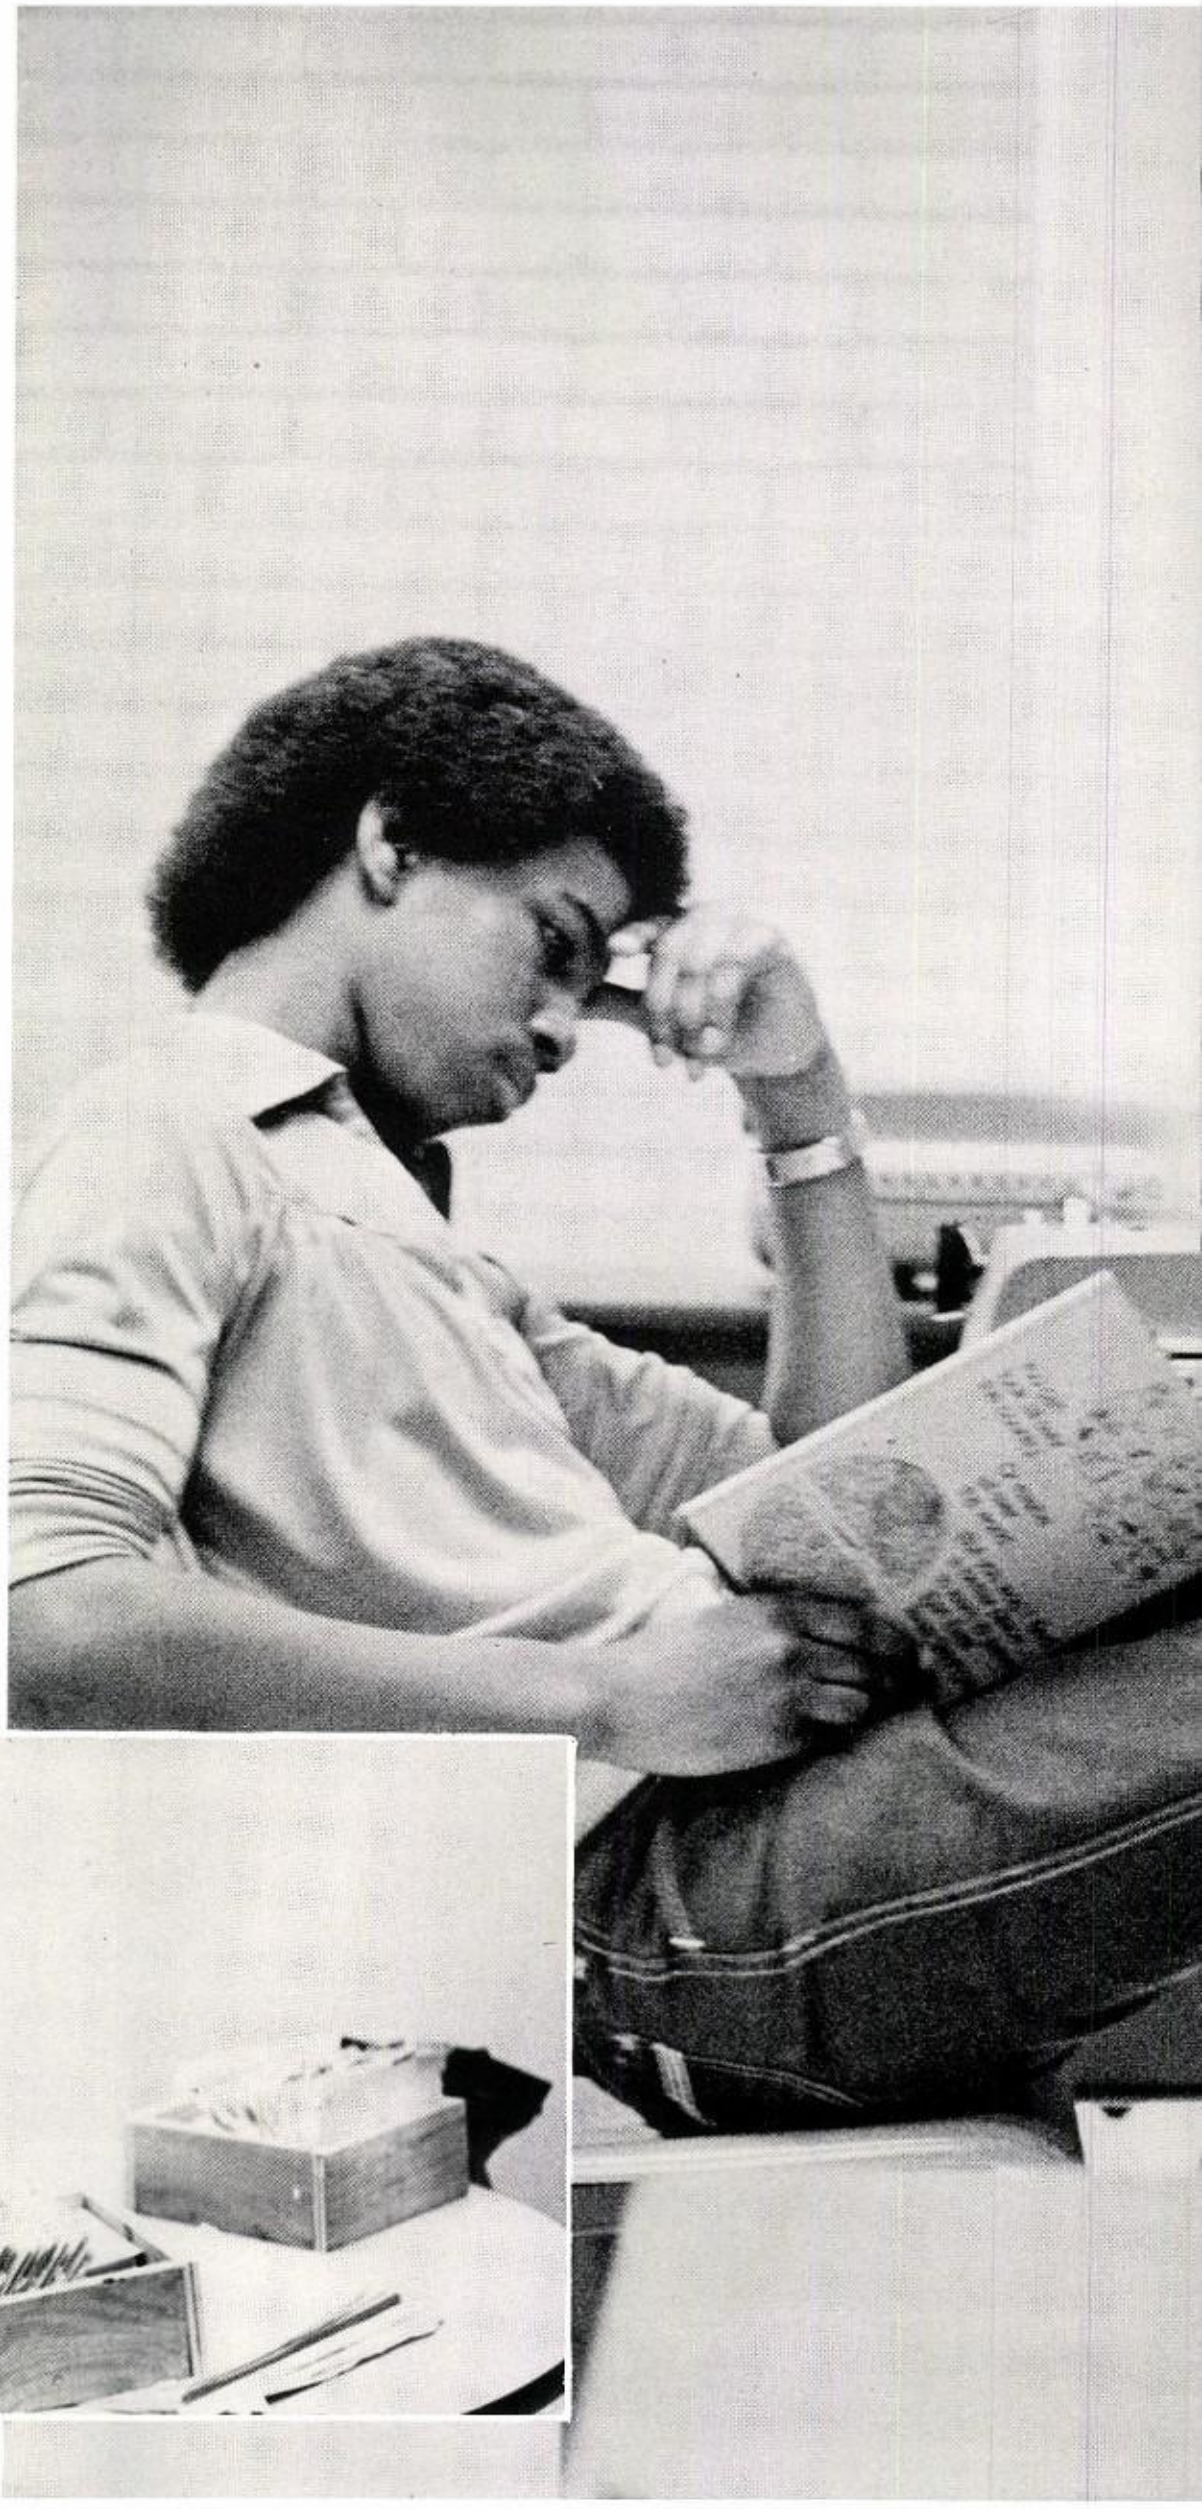
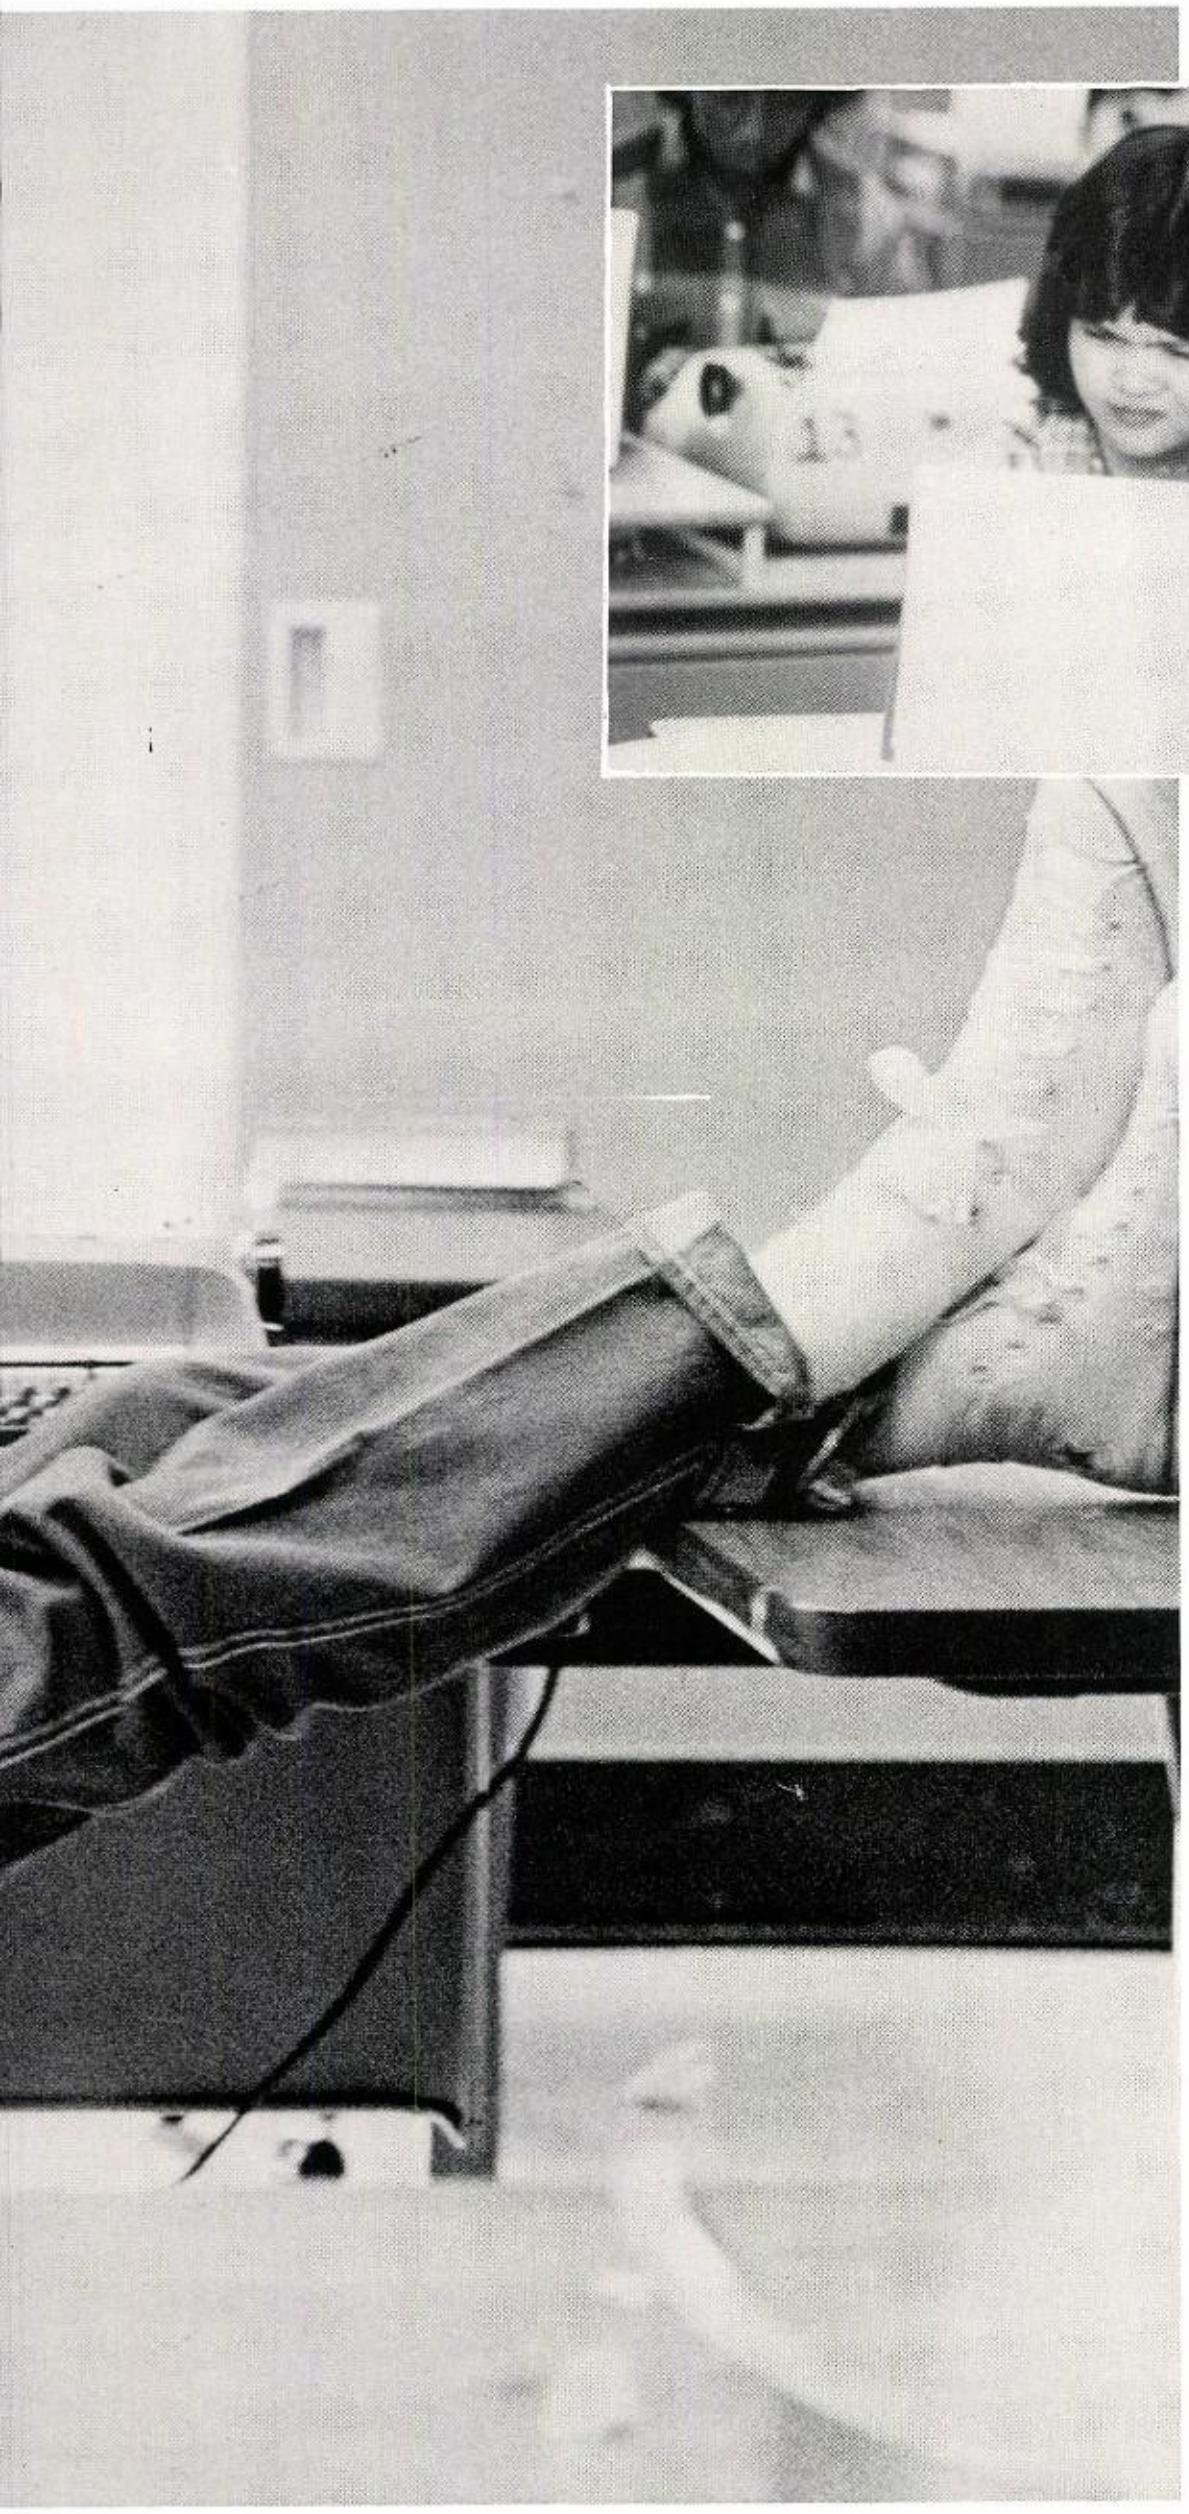
Mrs. Burkett seems really surprised.

EXECUTIVES OF THE FUTURE

Numerous business courses were offered during the year. Such classes as shorthand, accounting, recordkeeping and typing gave students the background they needed to start into the business world. They also learned how to perform on the job, how to select jobs, and most important, how to communicate with their fellow workers.



Ginny Cayard uses her office skills.



Concentrating hard, Twee Clay practices her warmups.

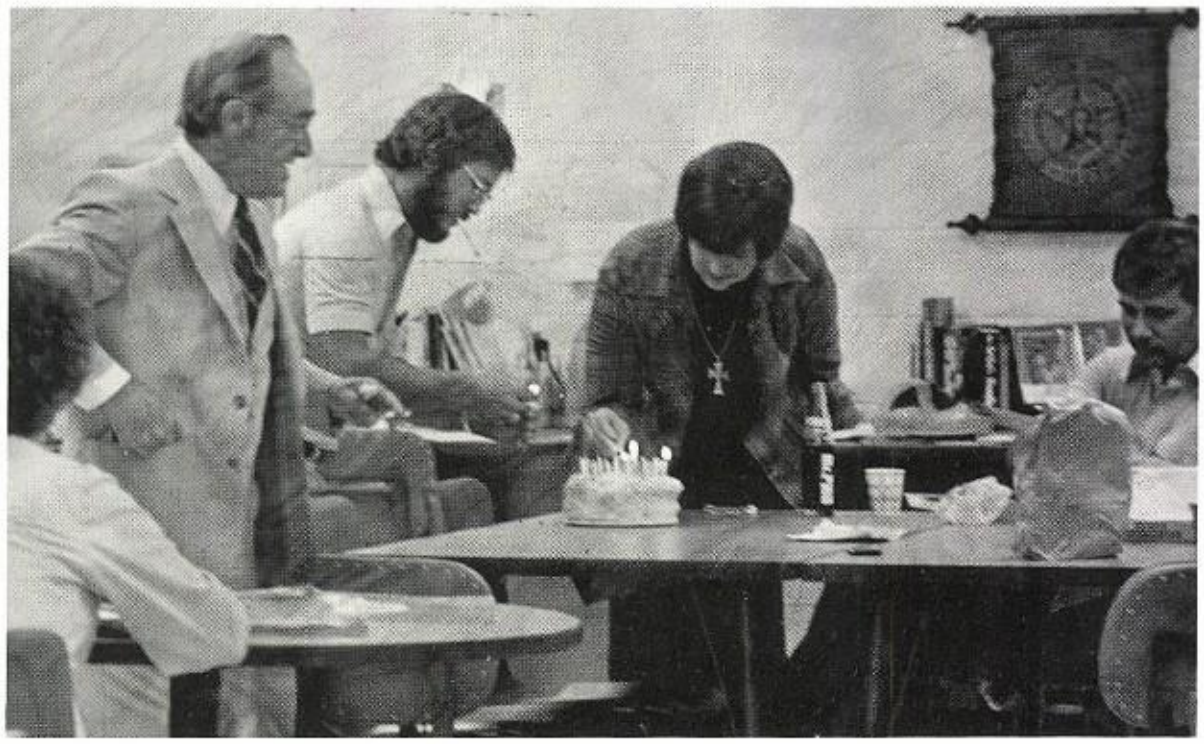
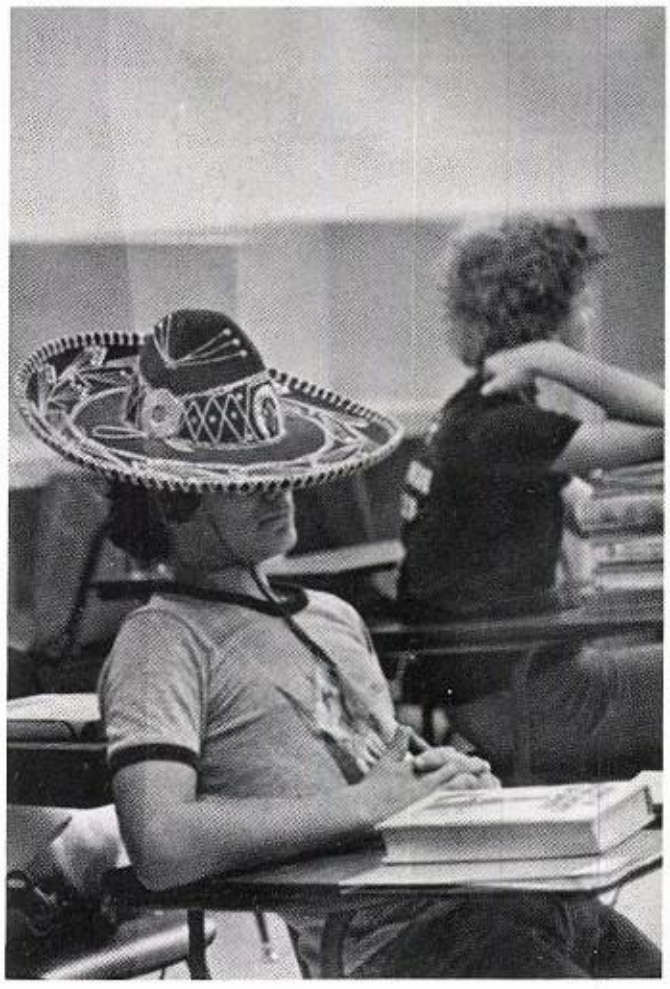
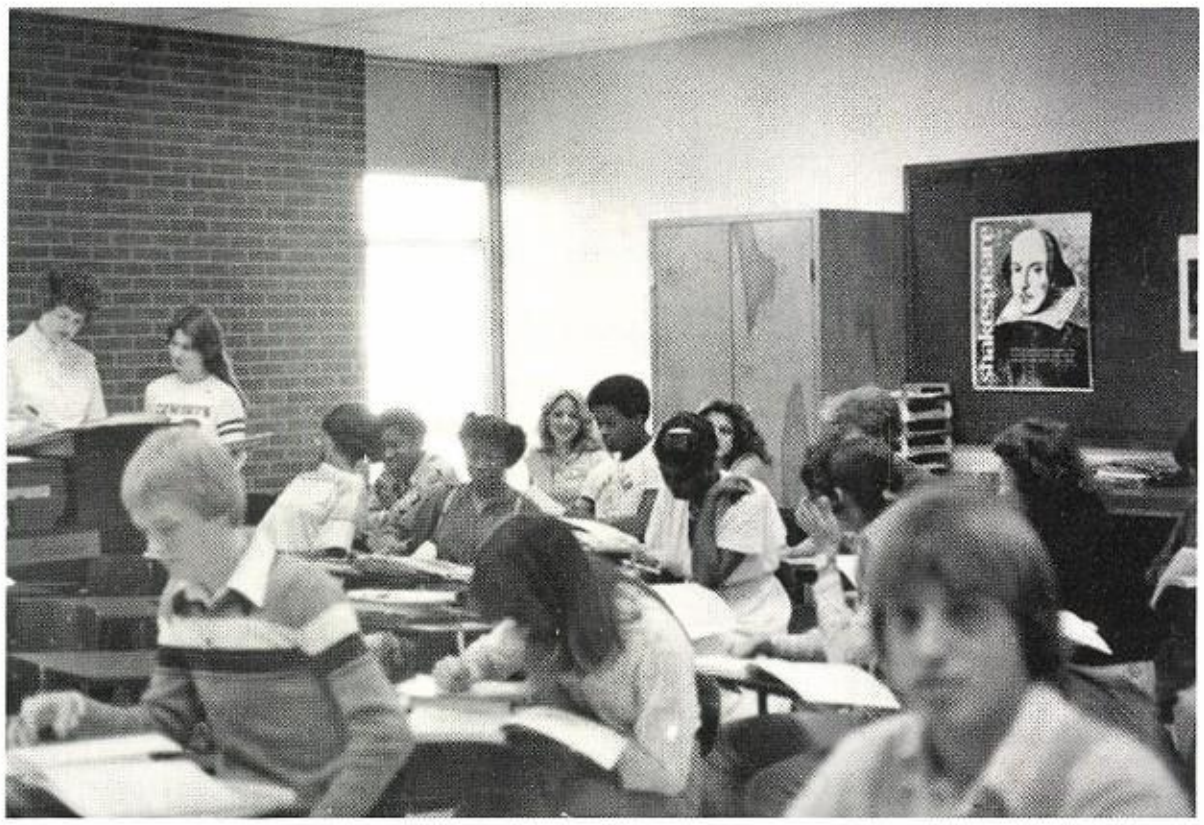
LANGUAGES PROVIDE KNOWLEDGE



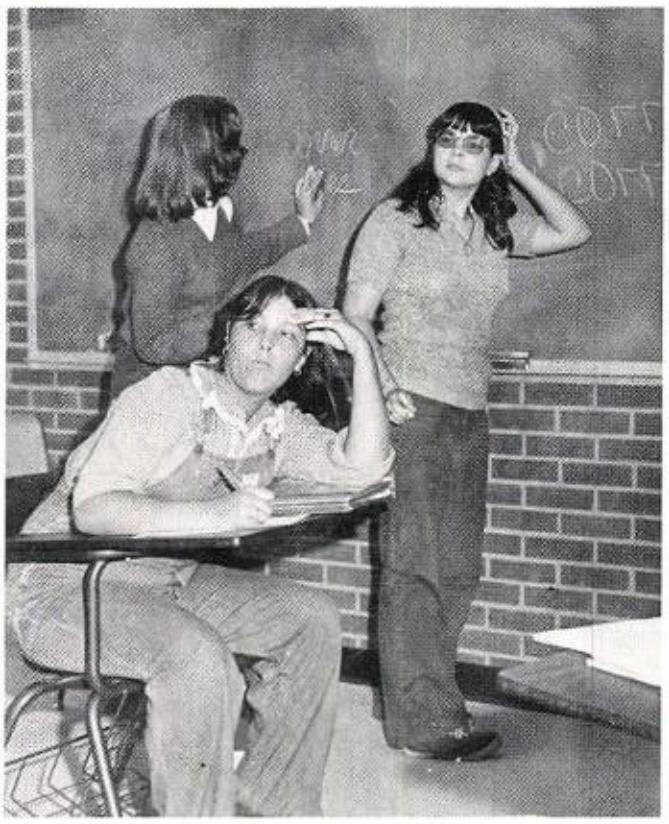
Language Teachers host a party.



A siesta in Spanish?



This requires concentration.



Confusion!

Gaining knowledge of languages of different areas developed an increasing understanding of the country. Four languages were offered at John Tyler: French, German, Spanish, and Latin. The language classes attended the language Festival in the spring. Students participated in clubs which furthered their understanding of the languages. Foreign languages not only aided students, but also presented new challenges.

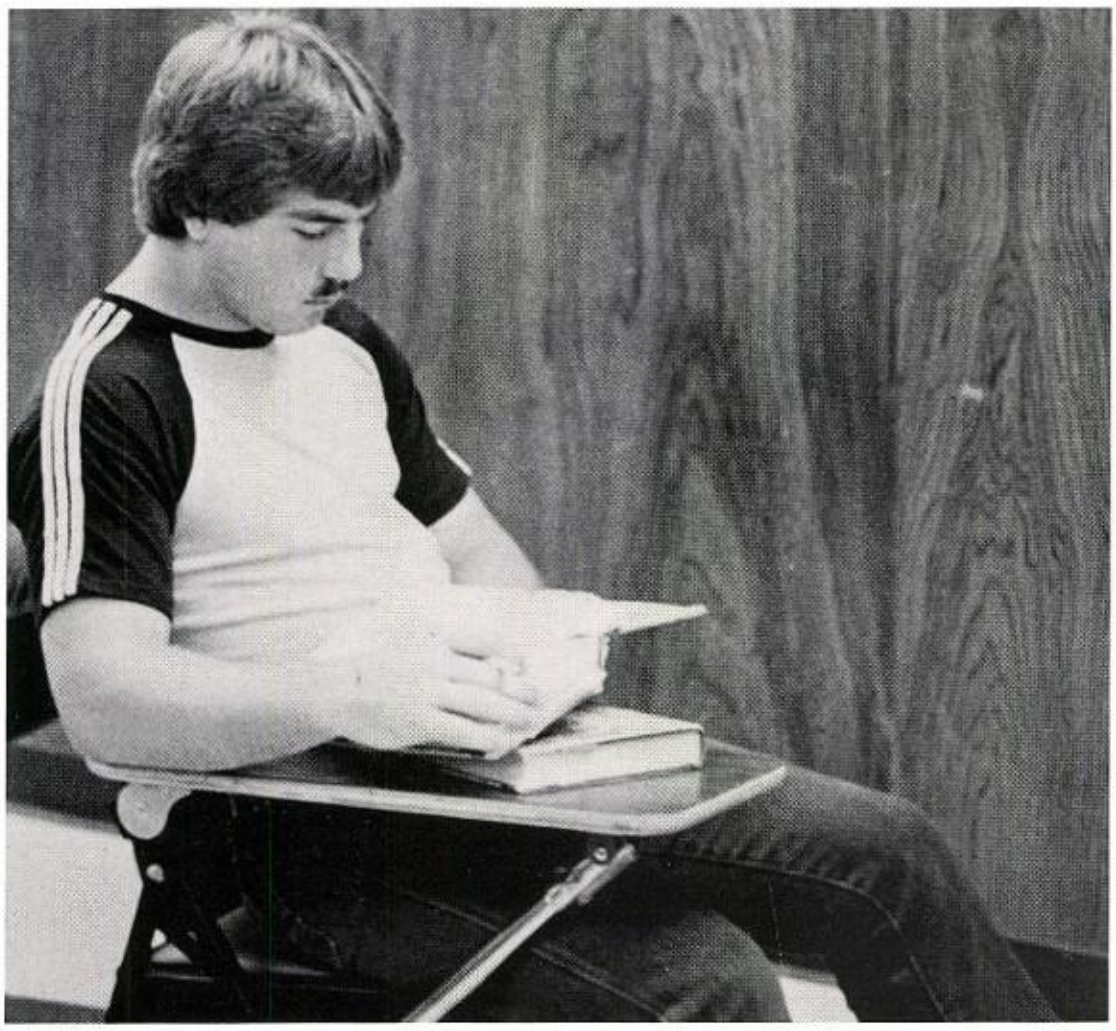
Desired activities were offered during the year to physical education students. The first trimester offered softball, and volleyball. The second trimester offered basketball and indoor bowling. The third trimester offered tennis and softball. A few changes were made in the program for better organization. Students seem to enjoy P.E. more this year.

Students Learn How To Be Healthy



Monty Clemmons reads up on how to be healthy.

An elective course was offered to students who wanted to learn more about how their body functions. Artificial Respiration was taught by several registered nurses. The students practiced CPR on dummies provided by the American Heart Association. After the course was over, the students had a lifetime reward of knowing how to save a life.

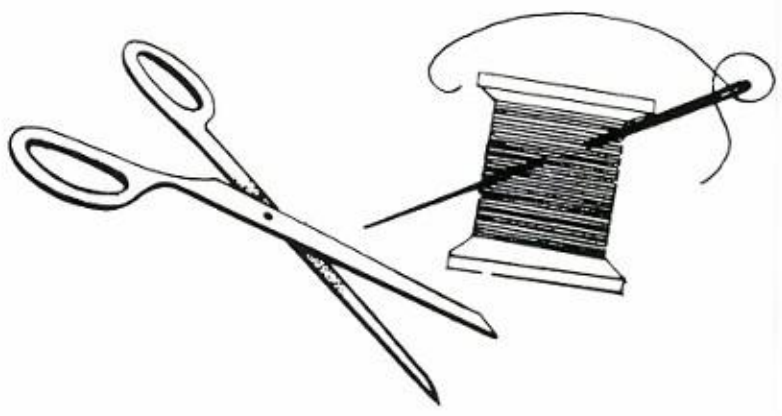
Tina Hammond is ready for the daily quiz.

"Who says J. T. students can't cook?"

Students in all levels of homemaking are exploring the subjects of interior decorating, child development, cooking, sewing and home management. Safty rules and basic home principles along with decorating and furnishing a home played an important role in the course.



Preparing for Parenthood

"I hope nobody is looking!"

"It couldn't be that bad Penny!"

This year students got the hang of Child Development by pretending they were children themselves. They played with toys that children prefer, made collages of tots playing, eating, and sleeping. They required a notebook showing the cost and procedure of having a baby today. By the end of the course all the students knew the facts of parenthood.

"This is so much fun," thinks Nena Clower.

Mrs. Hoybrook enjoys her Child Development class.

World of Beauty

For a change of pace, many students journeyed off campus to attend class. Students interested in cosmetology went to Richard and Joseph Beauty Salon to prepare themselves for a future in the world of beauty. Students had their choice of attending the three hour class either in the morning or in the afternoon.

Teresa Bolton and Cindy Snider work on wigs at Richard & Josephs.

Medical Experience Is the Best Medicine

First aid is not the only field of study of the Health Occupations students. Actual job experience was the best teacher. Students work as dental or medical assistants, and nurses aides in the Tyler area.

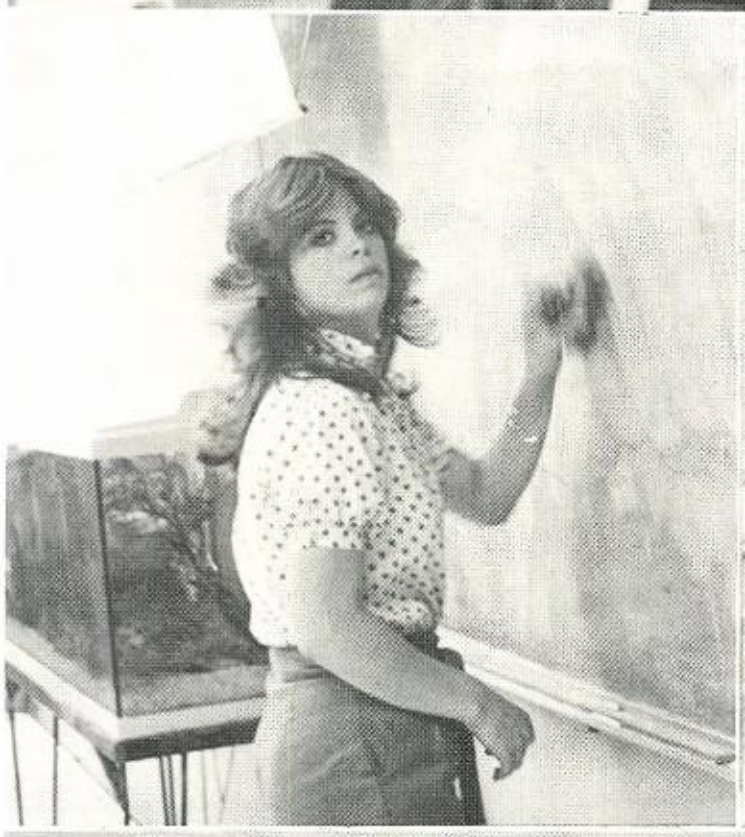
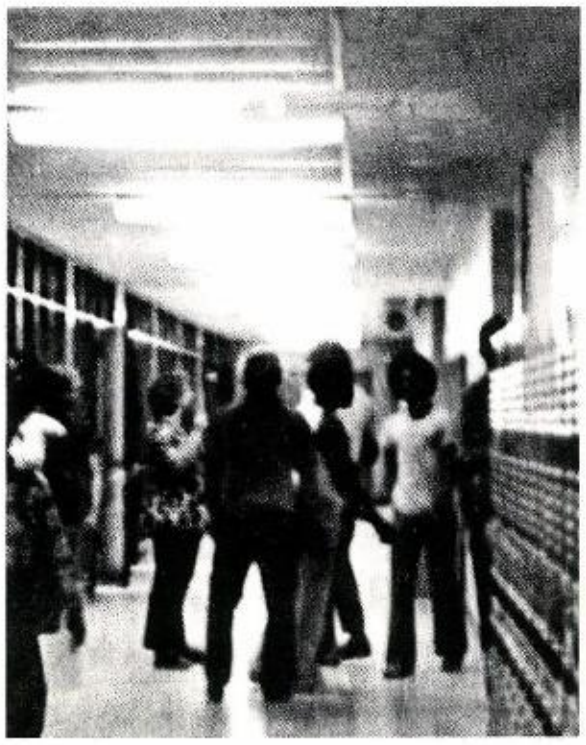
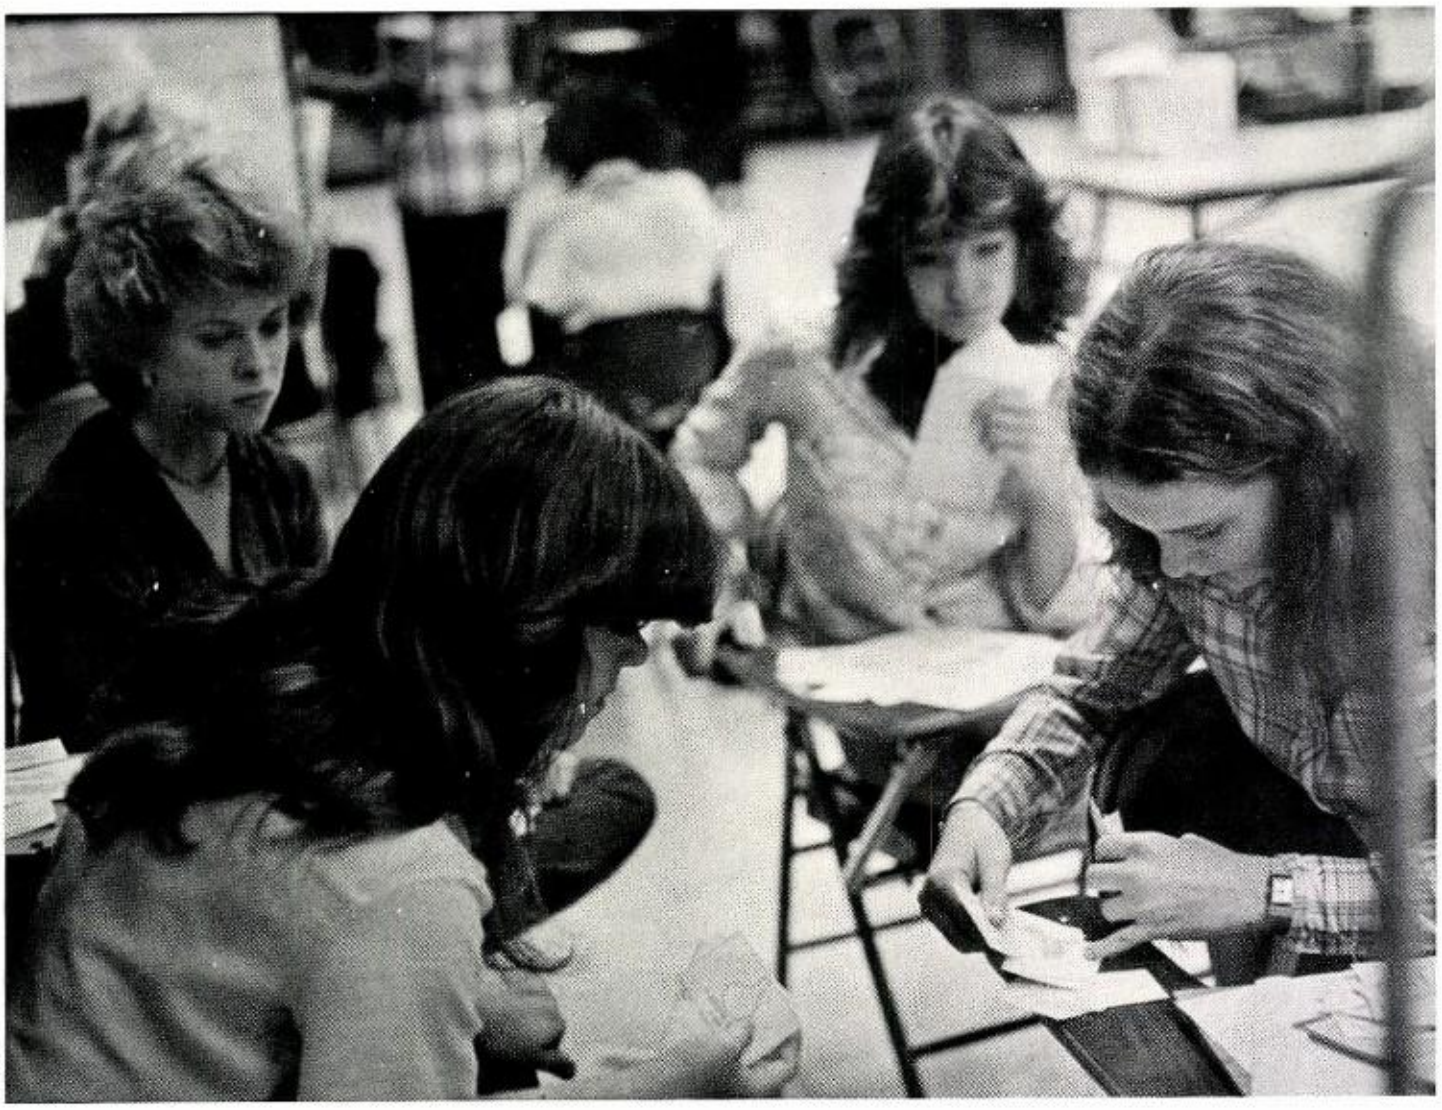
Our Future Einsteins







Patti Bush, June Profitt, and Barbie Taylor discuss the daily work.

Karen Murphree gives her report.

Many students traveled through ancient civilization for an hour each day. Travels through Greece, Rome, and Egypt often detracted from the days monotony of a regular social studies class. A short trip to another dynasty changed a dull class into a lively class. "Involvement" became a key word in these often exotic journeys and students learned to enjoy their World History, World Geography, or American History class.

Shannon Caddell concentrates hard.

Correct grammar, sentence structure, and punctuation were combined by students to express their ideas through creative writing. One of the main points of emphasis in the senior and junior English classes was placed on appreciation of literature. Some of the popular selections read were Hamlet, The Scarlet Letter, MacBeth, Edipus The King, and Shane. Most students were required to write themes after each selection of literature. Senior English classes helped prepare students for English courses at the college level.

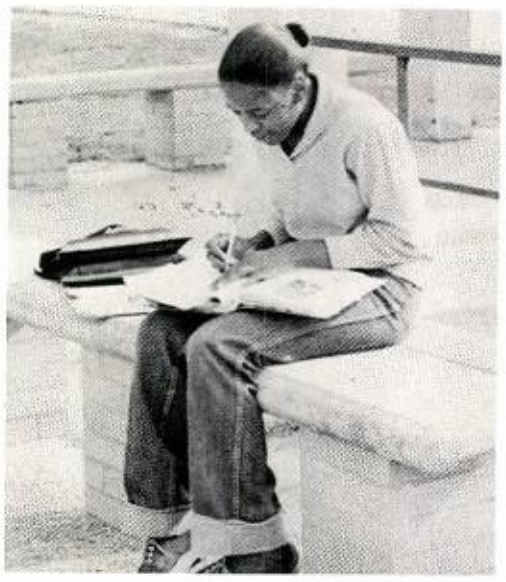
Students Study Role of Government

Beverly Etison, are you listening to Mrs. Maxwell?

Darryl Shaftner and Becky Saulier pass a few jokes.

Government students wait eagerly for 3:30.

The history, structure, and development of the governmental system was studied to help familiarize students with an understanding of the national, state, and local levels of government. Knowledge gained throughout the school year helped make some students more conscious of the important role government played in their lives. All students were required to participate in a simulation of the passing of a bill. Also required was a Texas notebook, which included the history and present facts about Texas cities and heroes.



Charlotte Coleman knows when to get her government work.

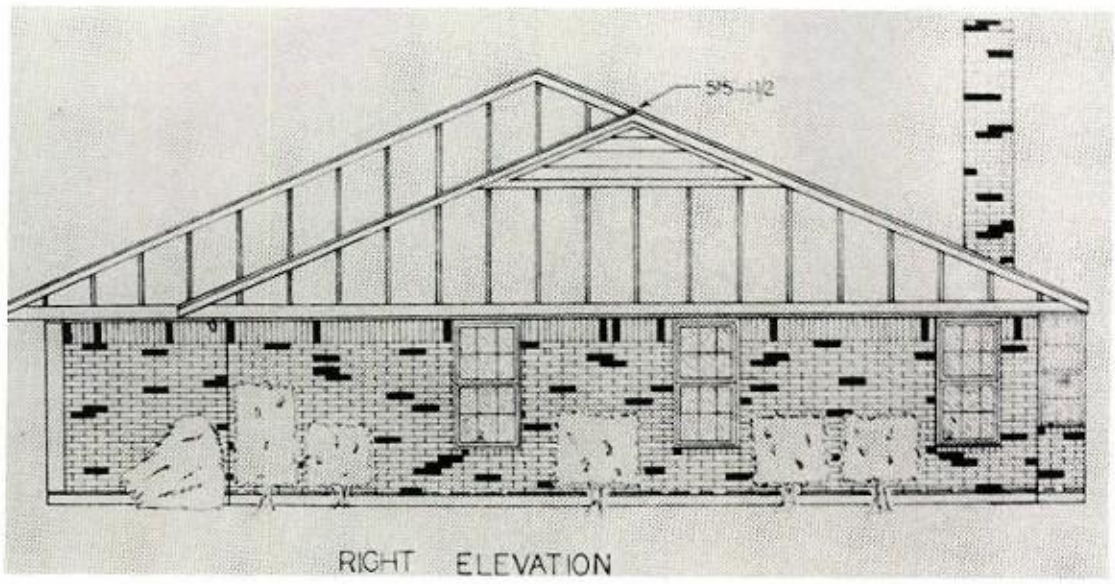
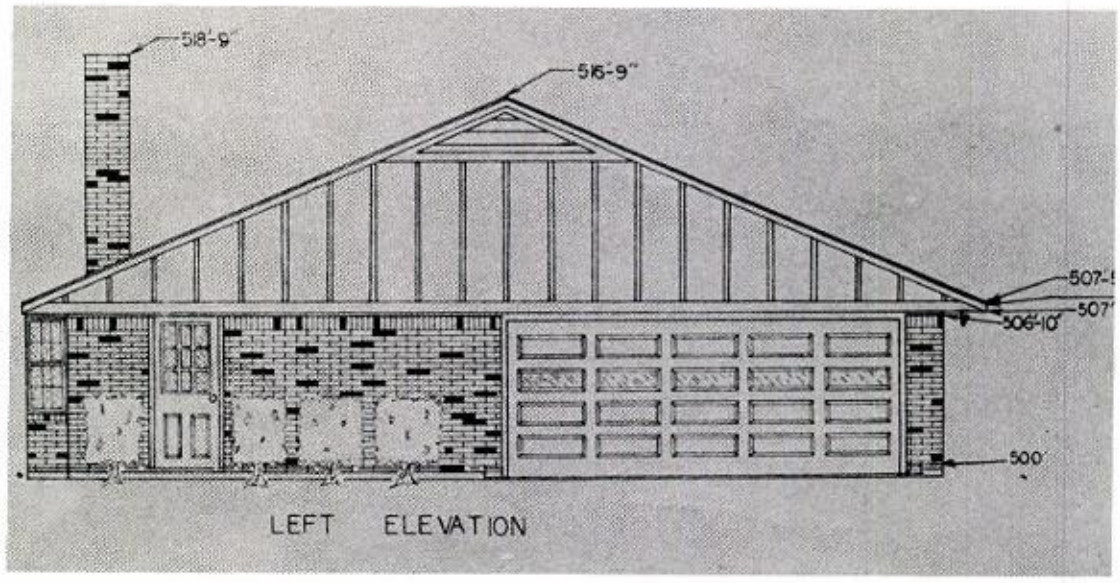
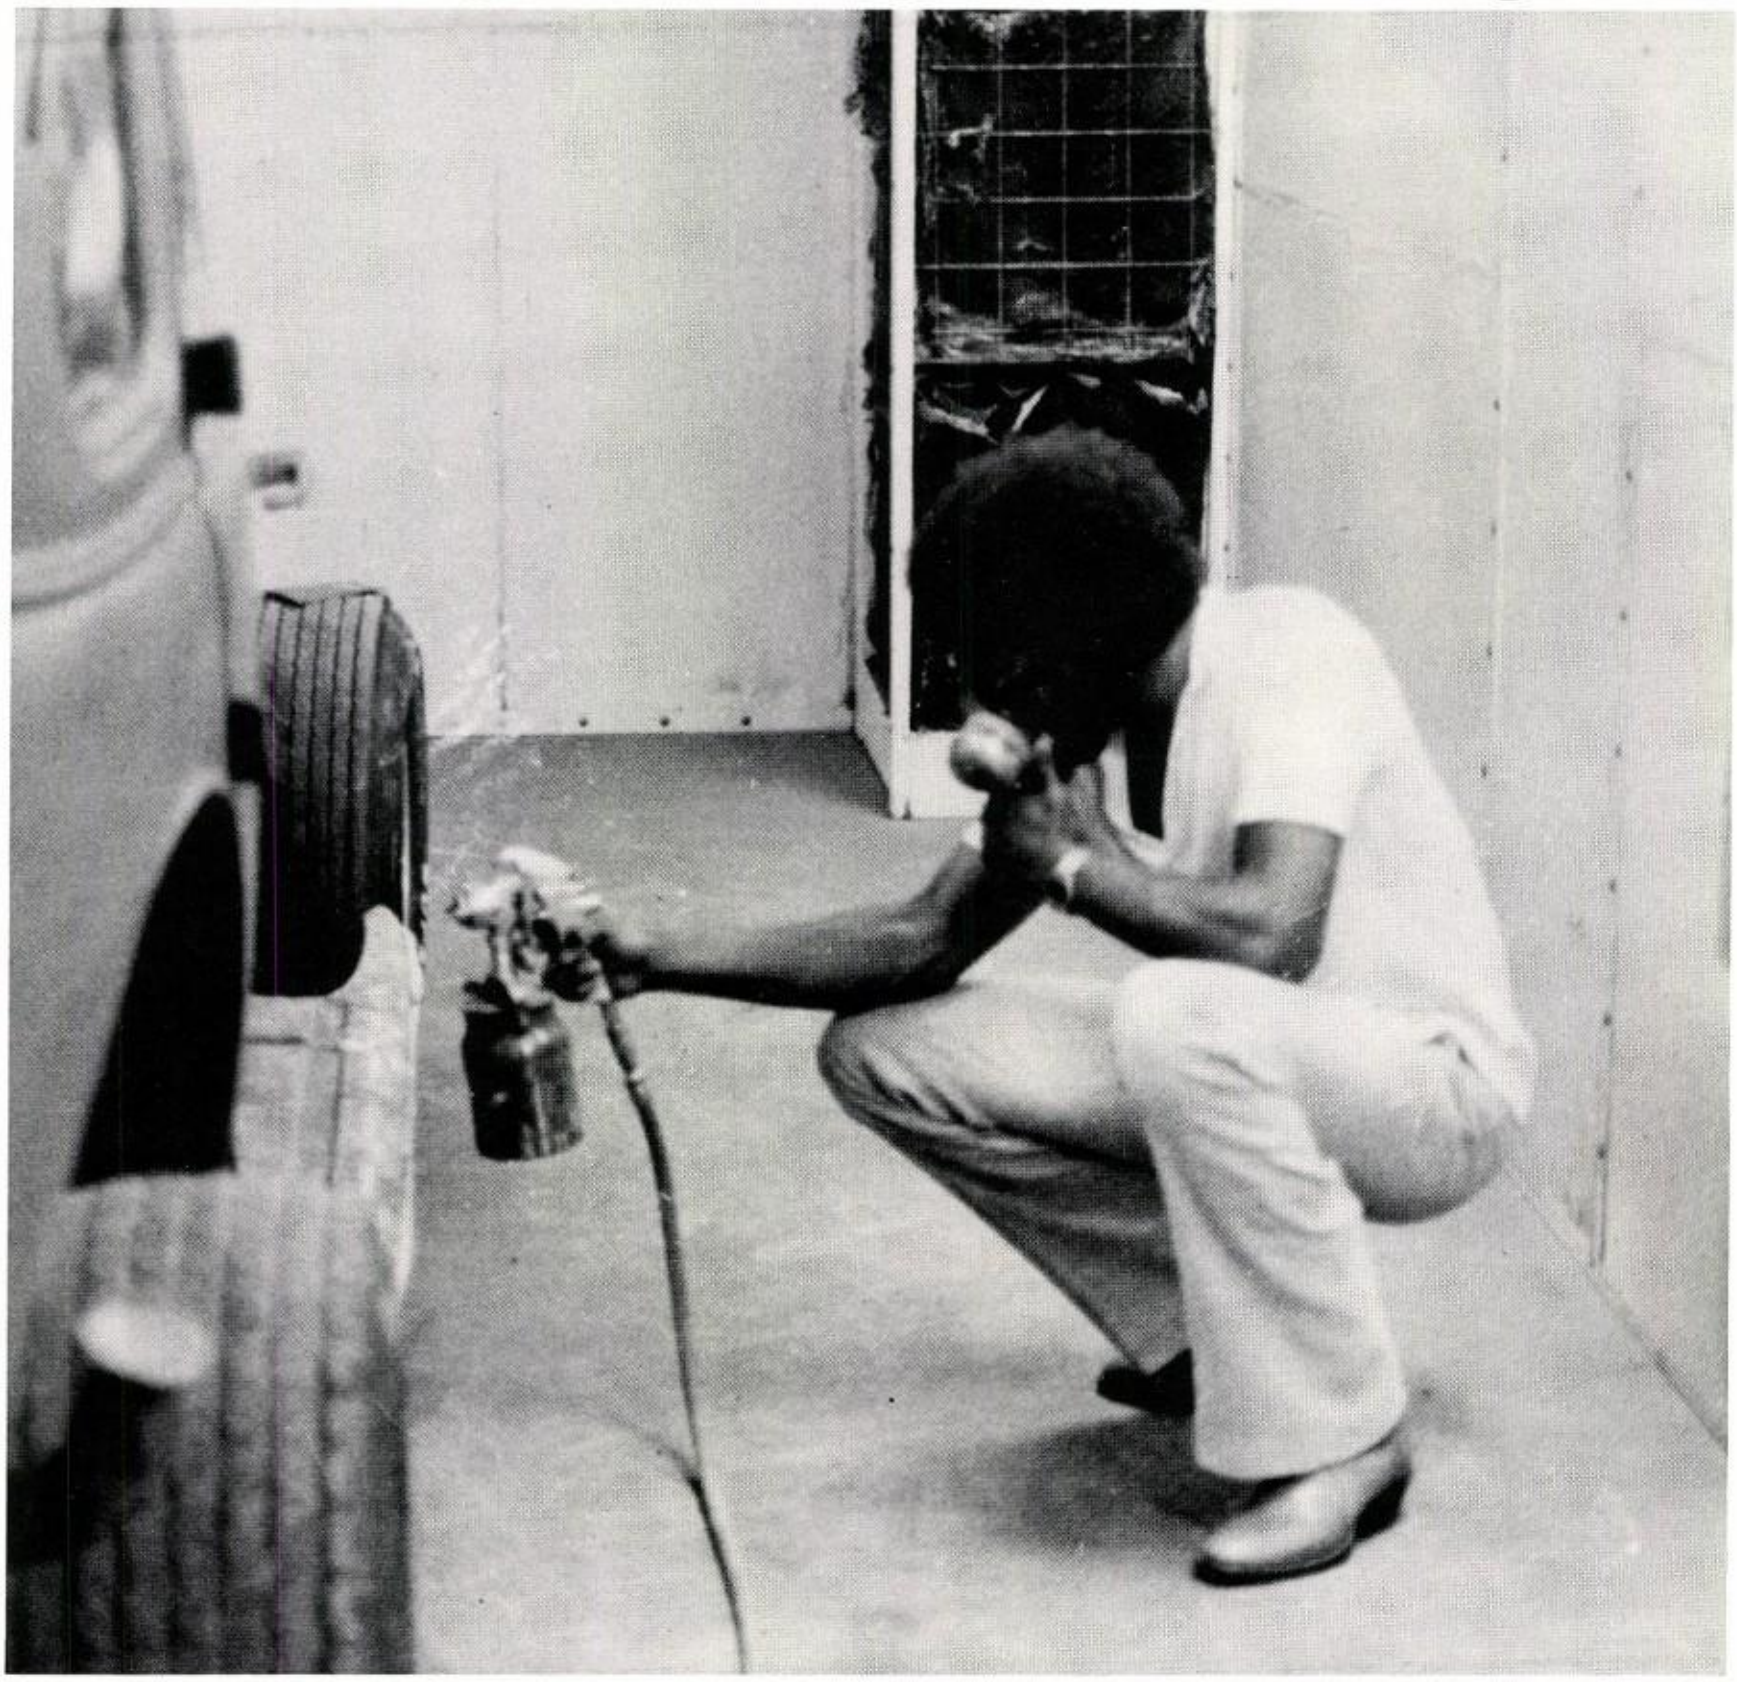
Building Trades Constructs Another Fine House



Cooperation is the key word in Building Trades. This class builds, and offers for sale a complete housing unit. The building trade students construct the unit from nailing the boards to bricking the exterior. All this work starts from plans drawn-up in the schools drafting classes. The house is furnished and decorated by homemaking classes, skilled in interior decorating. Agricultural students provide the landscape, setting out trees, shrubs, and planting the lawn. All in all, a lot goes into the making of a home, and JT students know what contributions to make.



Keeping the Engines Running

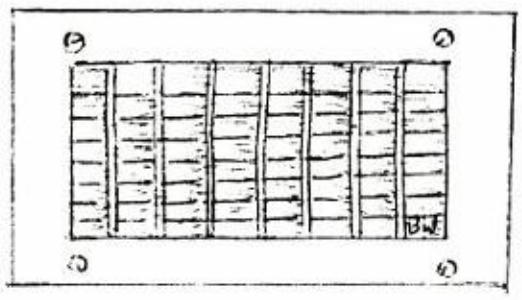


Gorden Tayler puts his abilities to work.

Each day Auto Mechanic students became familiar with what keeps a car going. Students not only learned how to locate problem areas in the automobile, but more important they learned how to treat the cause of the cars trouble. The students spent three hours in the class developing their skills. One hour was spent in teaching students the technical aspect of Auto Mechanics, and two hours were spent on practical work in the lab or on actual work in the shop. A great deal of time was spent teaching students valuable information about automobiles in general.

Students

Classroom and laboratory training educated students in the fields of plumbing. Students met 3 hours each school day. Actual job performances and skills in the piping trades were practiced daily. Instructions of codes, appliances, layouts, blueprints, gas and water piping fixtures, and measurements were learned at the plumbing piping industry located on the John Tyler campus.



Dylan Malone and Craig Snider work hard on the weekly project.

Keep Cool

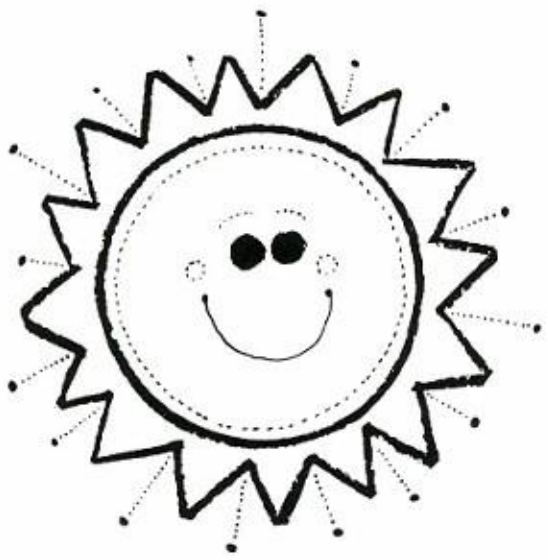
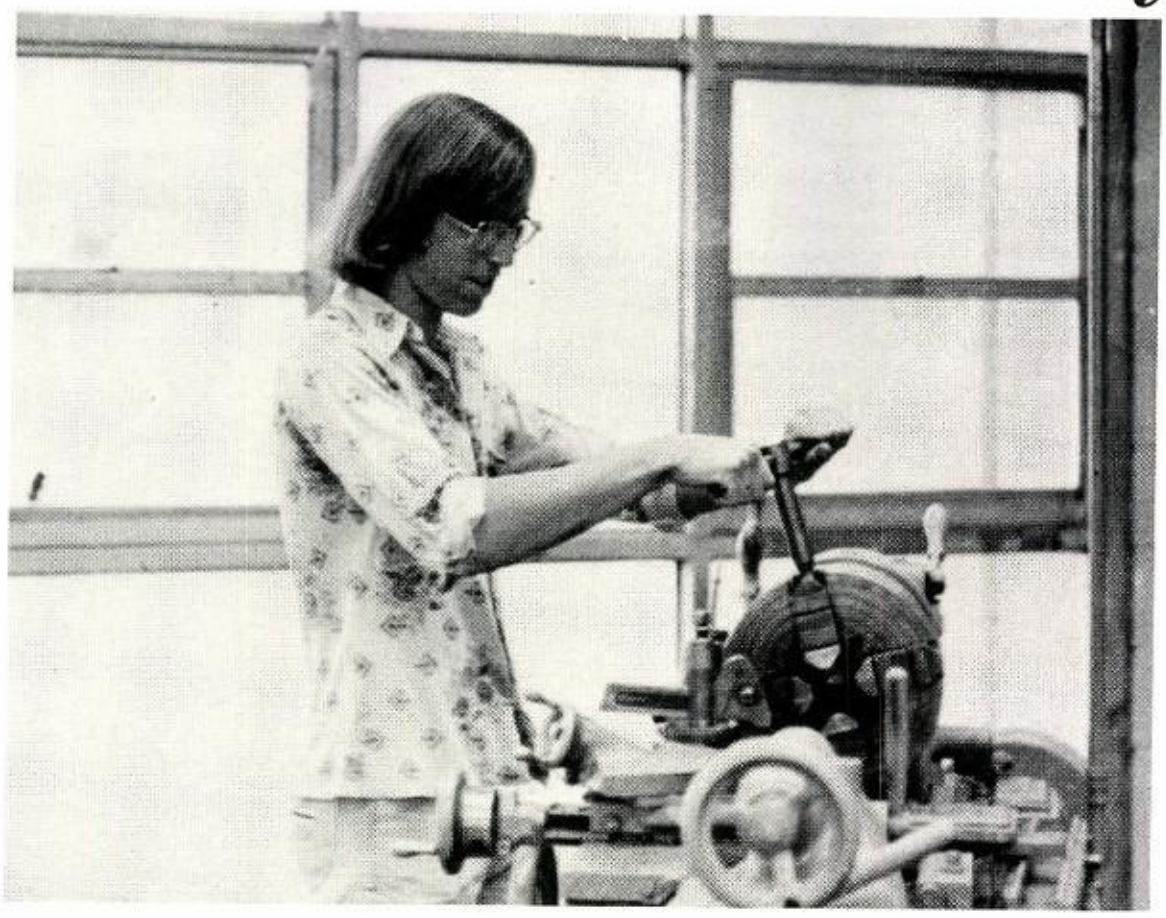
Students enrolled in Air Conditioning were taught the history, safety, physics of refrigeration, basic electricity, the compression cycle, and other related skills. Attitudes toward work and safety practices were important factors. The VICA were involved in various contests. Members were also involved in various workshops where they accomplished more air conditioning skills.



Hard Work Pays Off



Techniques learned and perfected in Metal Trades enabled students to construct building projects. Learn how to operate the different types of machinery and welding equipment were some of the techniques the students learned. The two-year program consisted of three hours of shop work and class instruction each day. Metal Trades instructor, Mr. Waymon Ragsdale, trained his students to develope their talents to their fullest potential. Shop mathematics and blueprint reading were some of the basic skills necessary before obtaining pride and accuracy in each of the student's work.

Curtis Worley skillfully works one of the complicated machines.

GOODBYE THOUGHTS

From without and from within,
We have learned to be good friends.
Many have loved and many have cried,
Yet we still don't know how to say goodbye.
There is only one way to begin
And that is at the very end.
We met as strangers,
We part as friends.
Maybe someday we'll meet again.

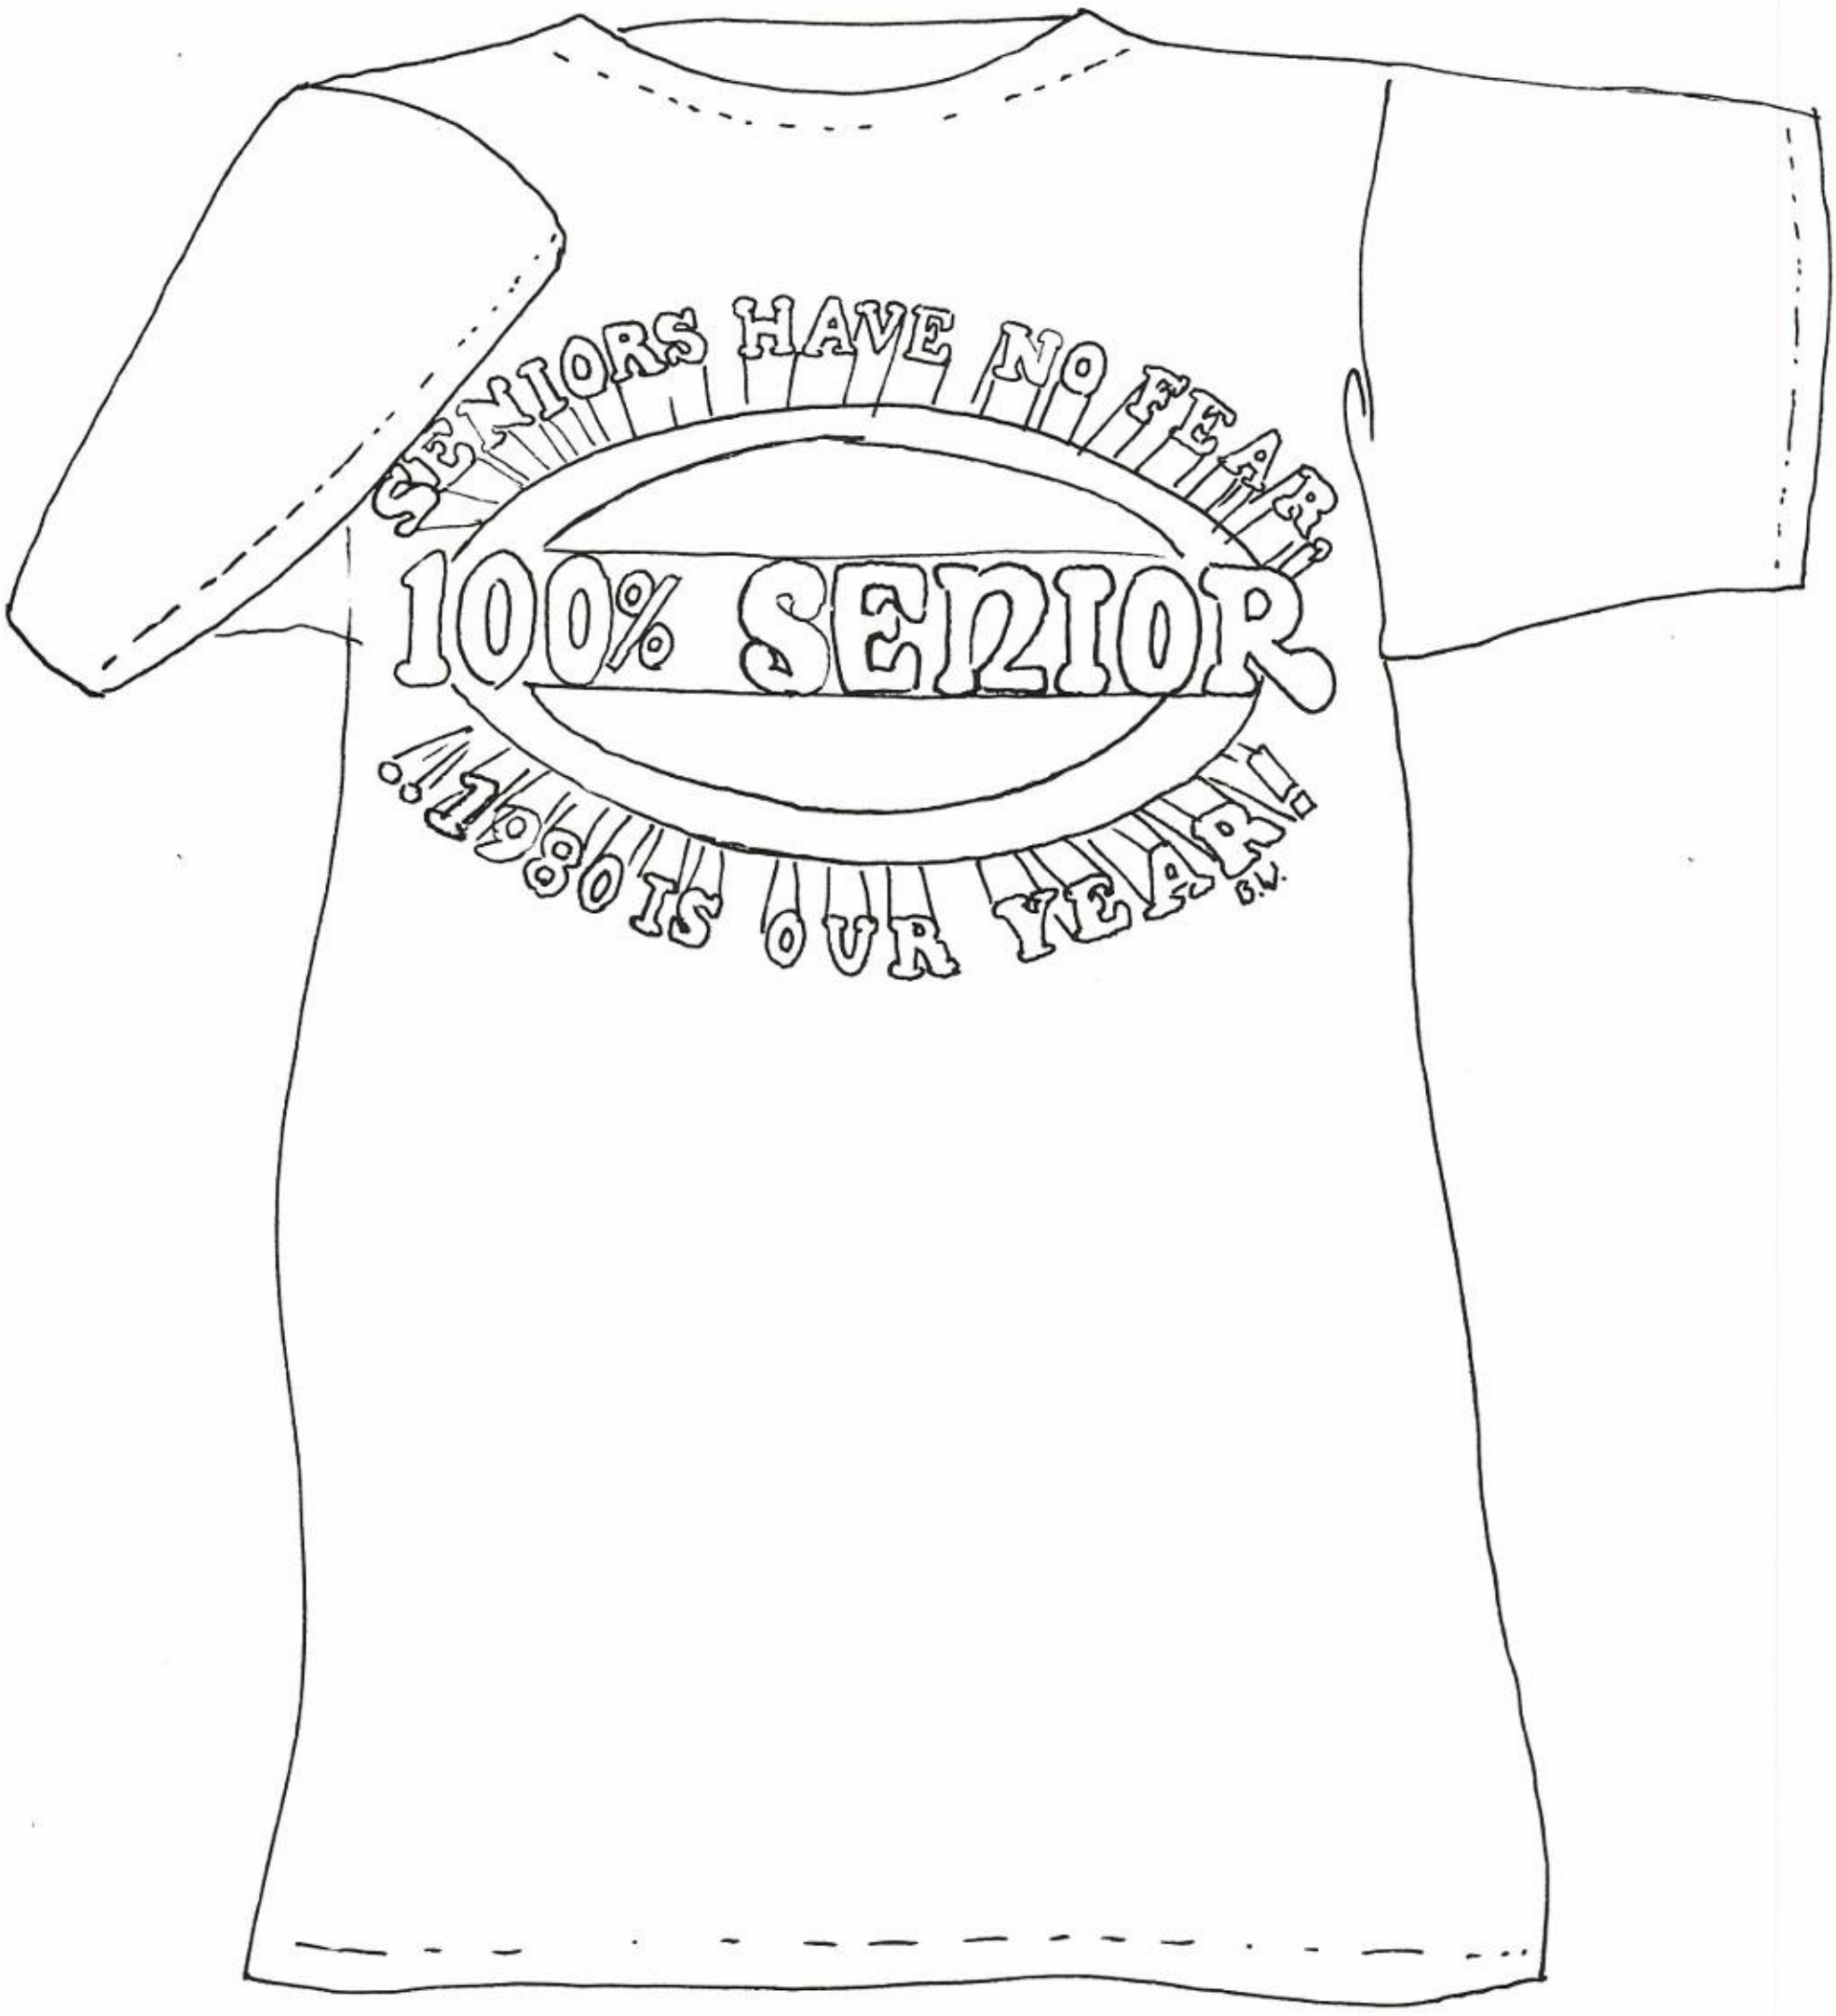
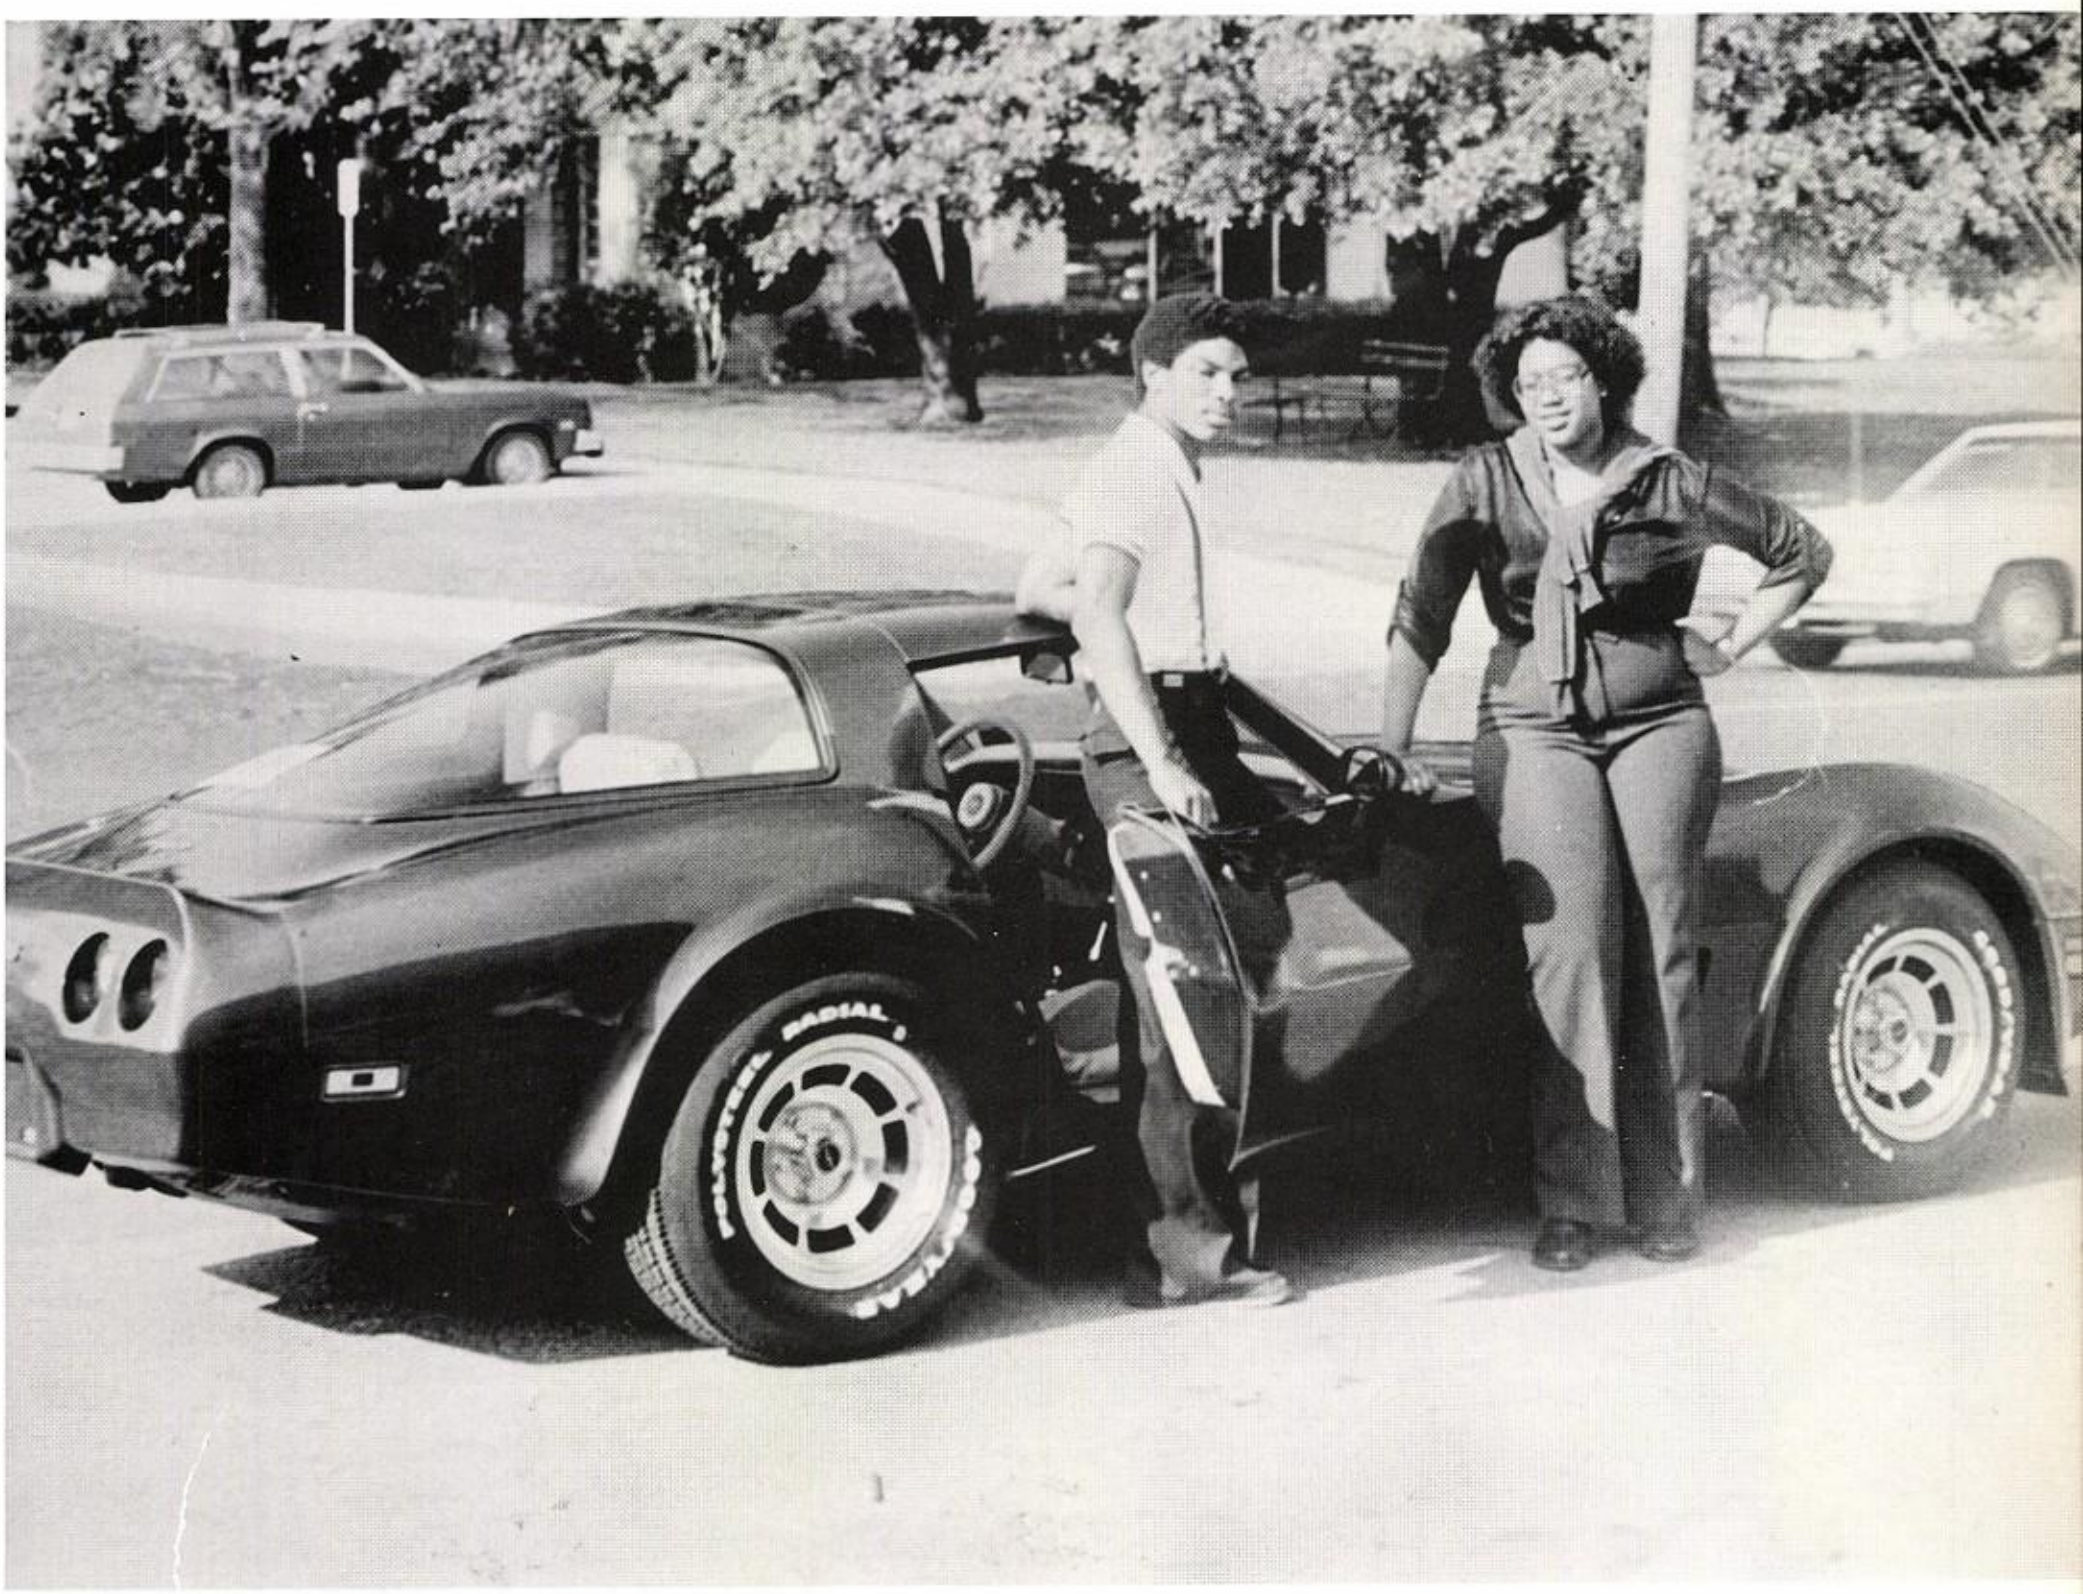
SENIOR AUTOGRAPHS



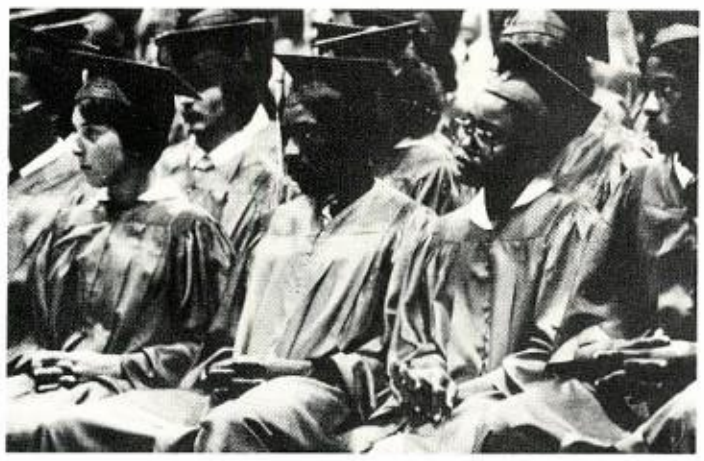
SENIORS HAVE NO FEAR
100% SENIOR
1986 IS OUR YEAR!!
B.V.



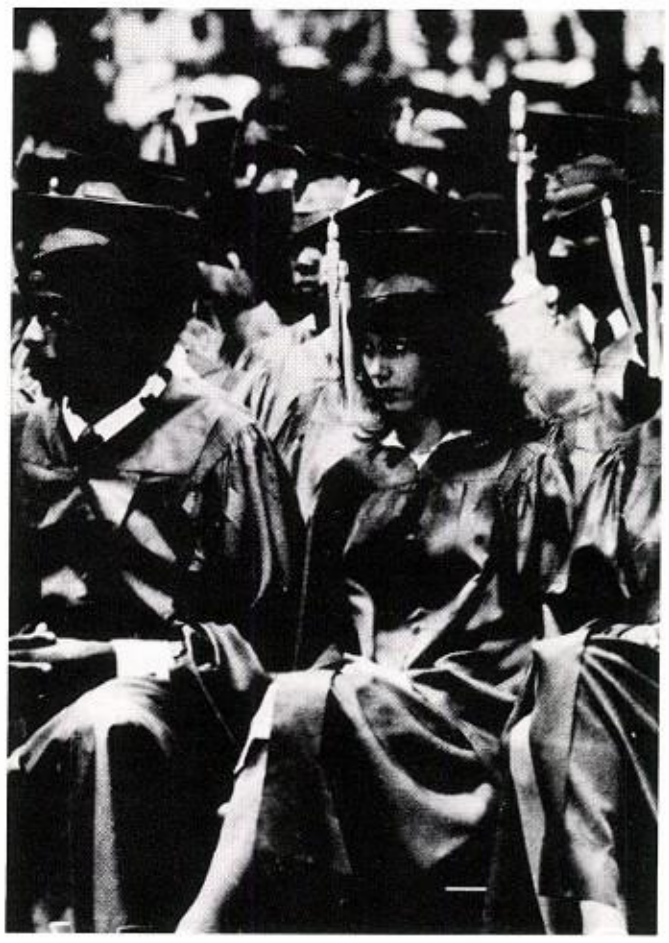
Senior Representatives for 1979-80 are: President Terry Jones and B'Linda Hawkin Vice-president.

THE STAGE IS SET FOR

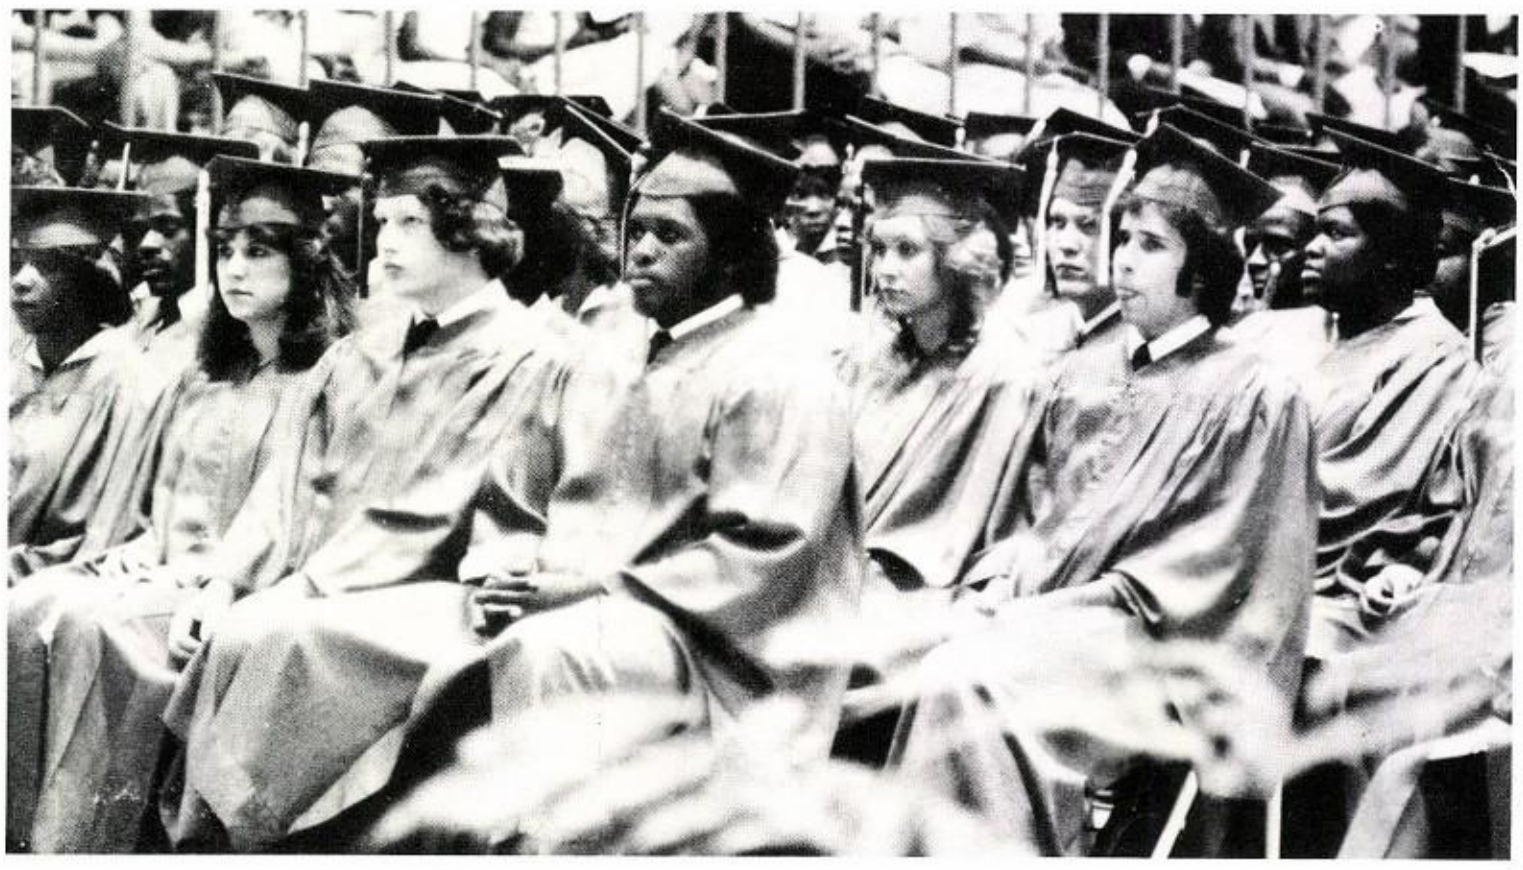
1980



seniors

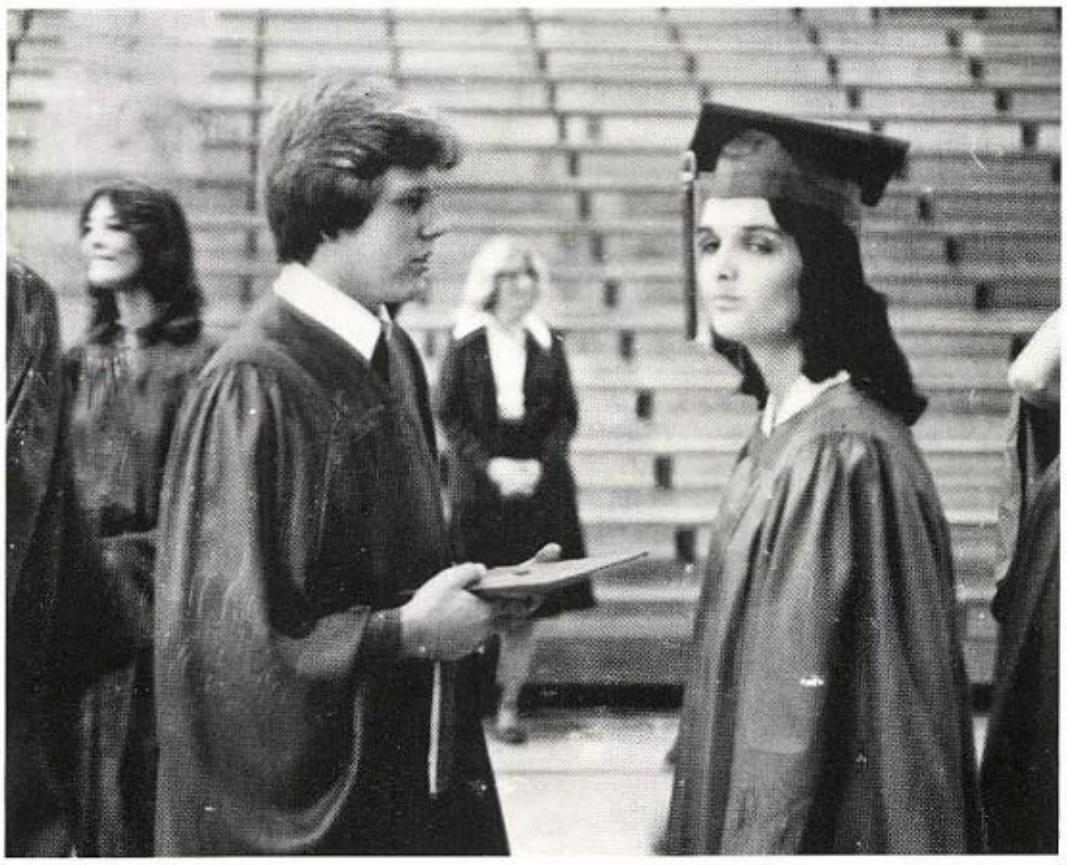


Seniors



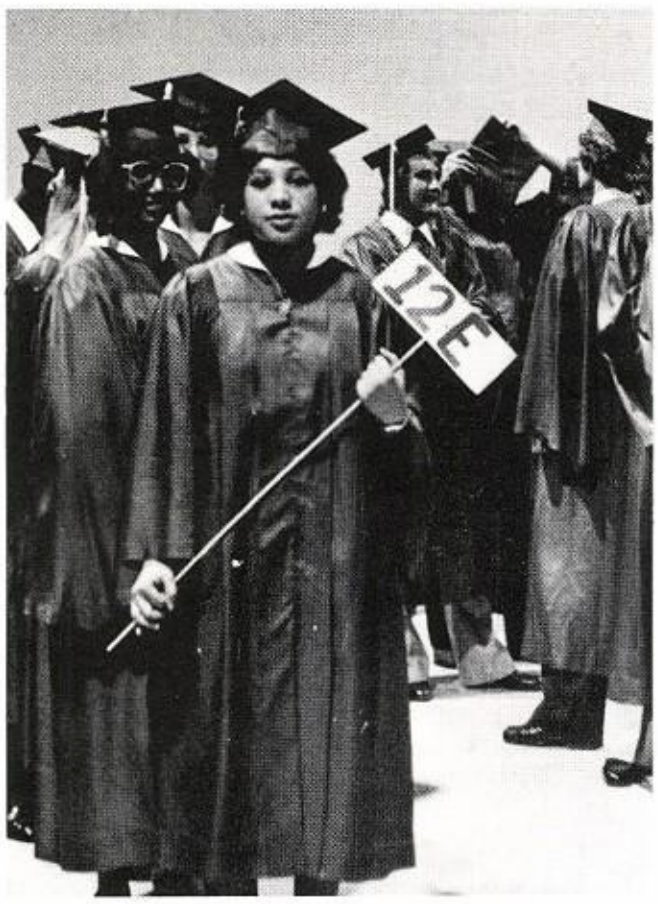
AND MORE SENIORS!

"But, Mom, I'm a senior now; can't I dress myself?"

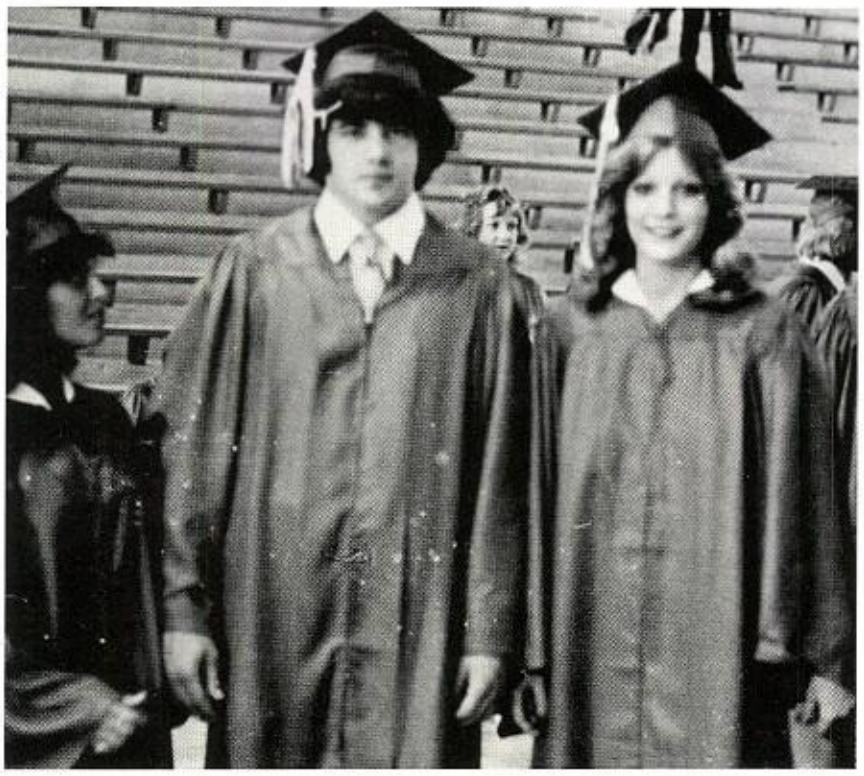


"Sure! You're here now, but where were you when I needed the answers to the chemistry final?"

"Why did that guy just put his cigarette out in my cap?"

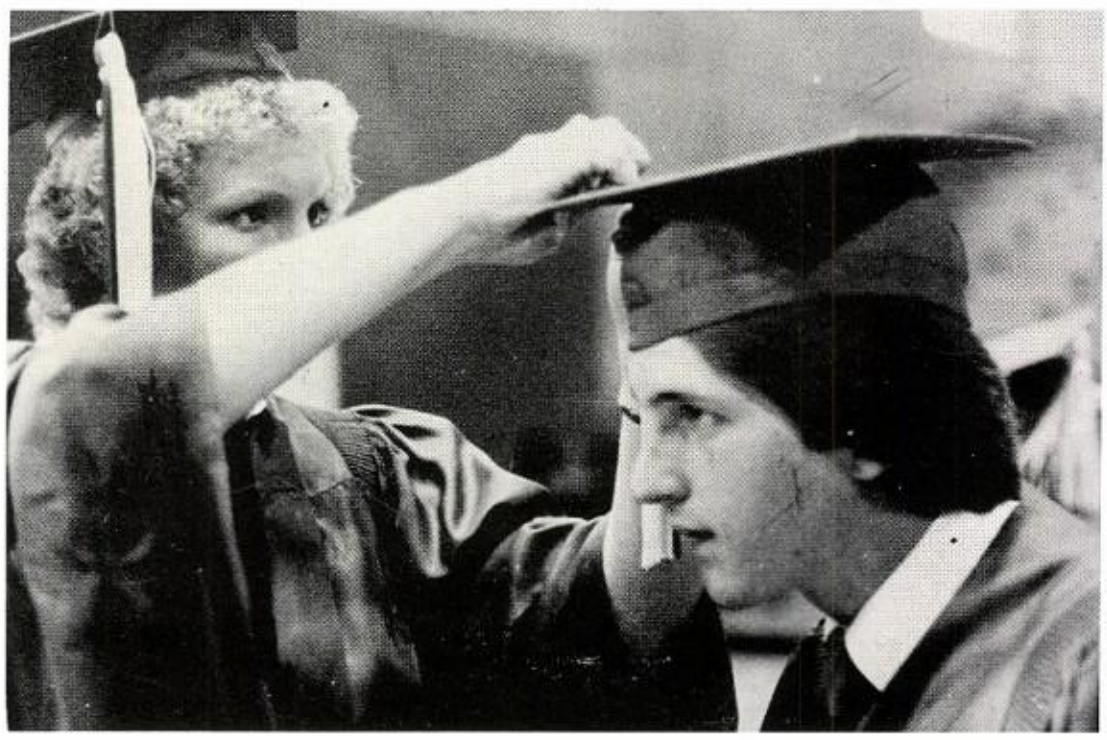


"But Ms. Brookes, you said it would say 'ERA!'"

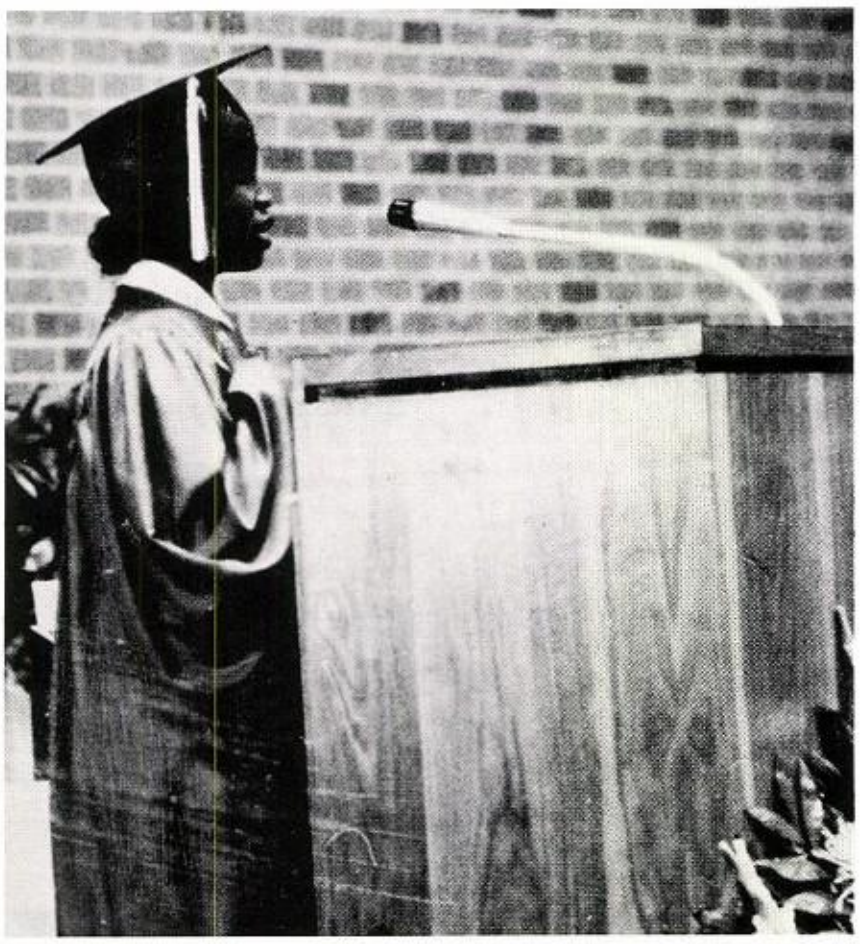


"But, Sir, I love you."

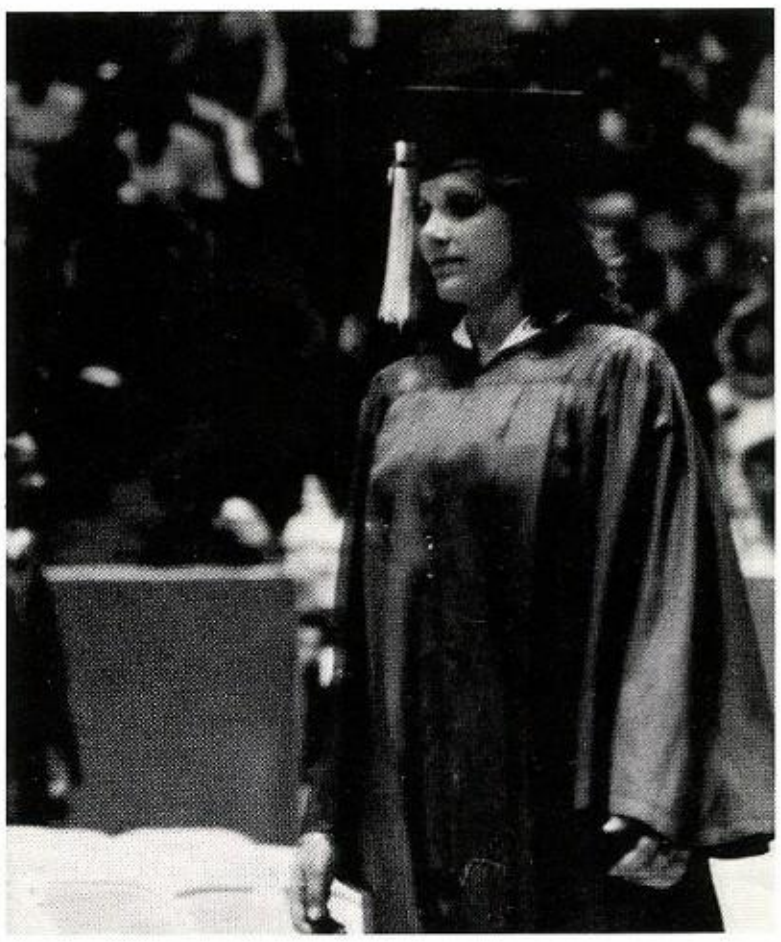
"What's shaped like a frisbee and flies like a pizza?"



"Hey, are you sure that stapling is the only way to keep this thing on?"

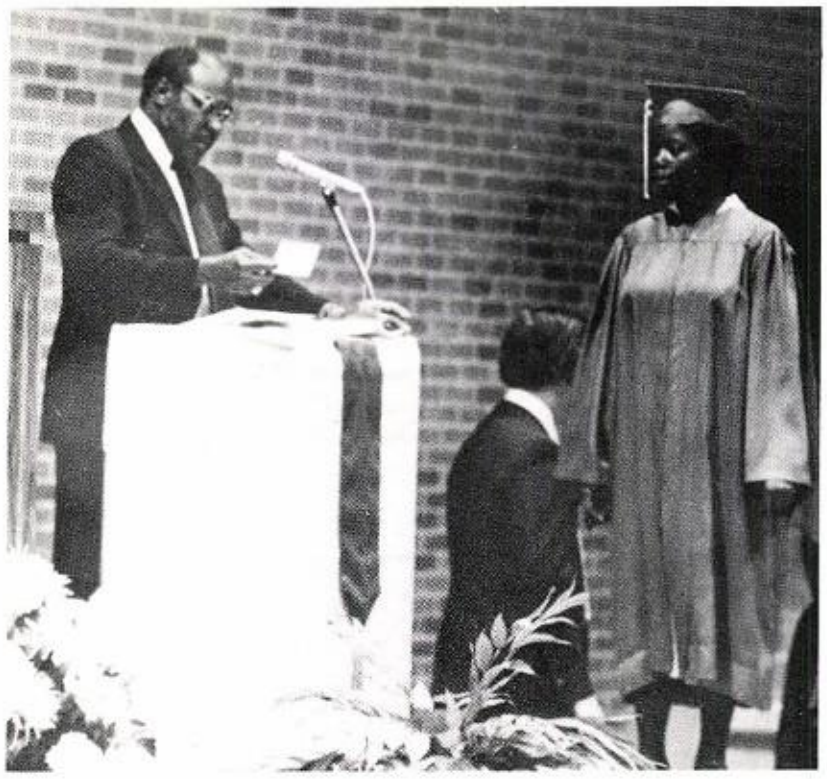


"I promise . . . not to toss . . . my hat . . . in the air."

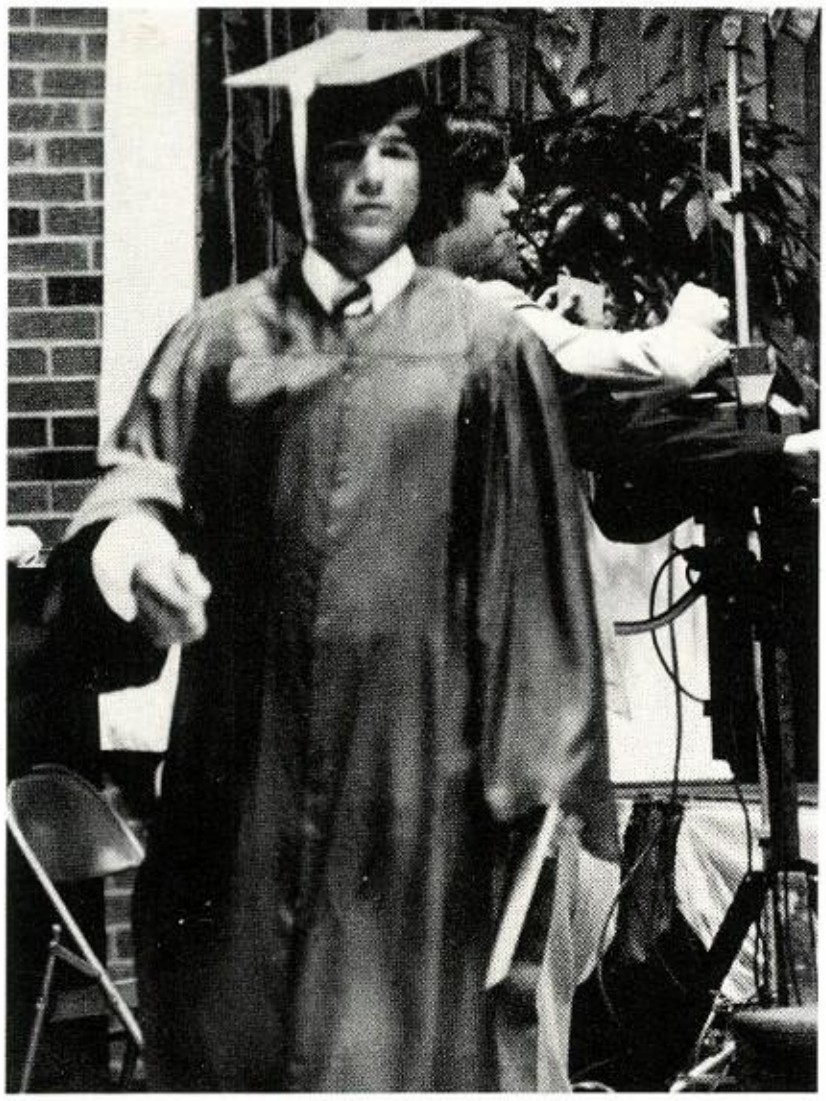


"Left foot, right foot; don't stumble and make a fool of yourself."

"Please, Mr. Baker, get my name right."

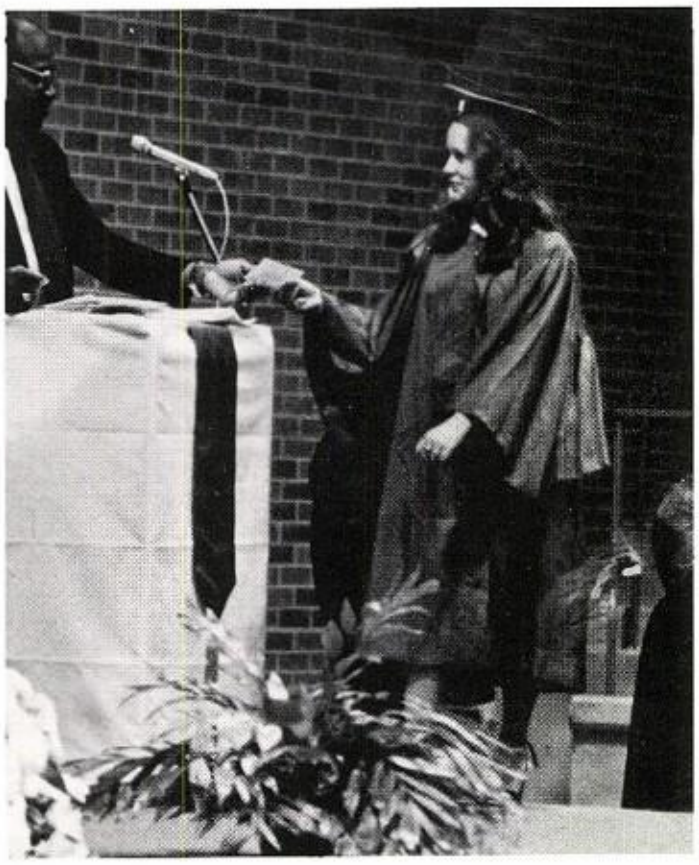


"What do you mean I can't graduate."

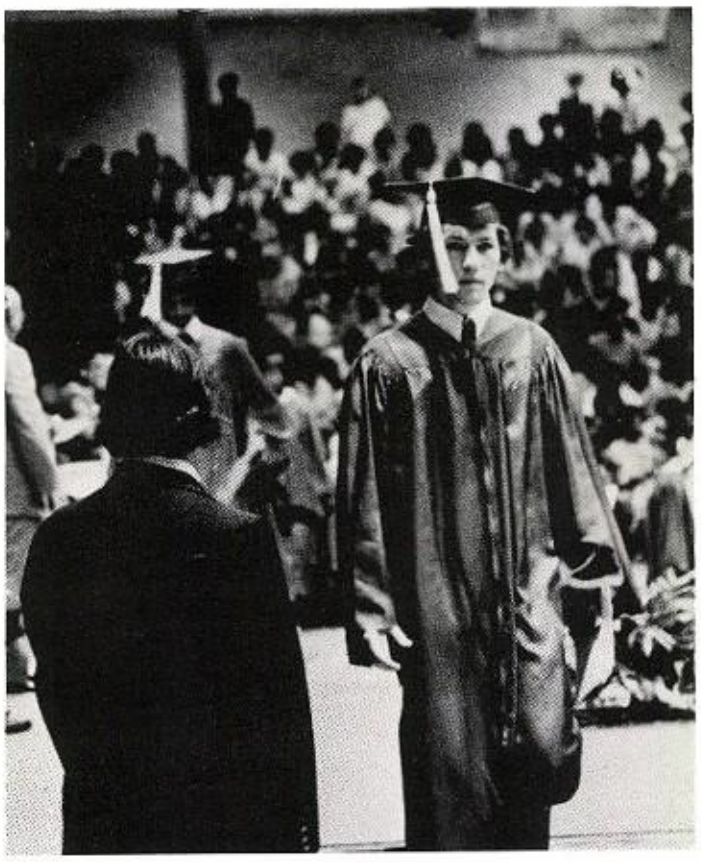


"Draft? What's the draft?"

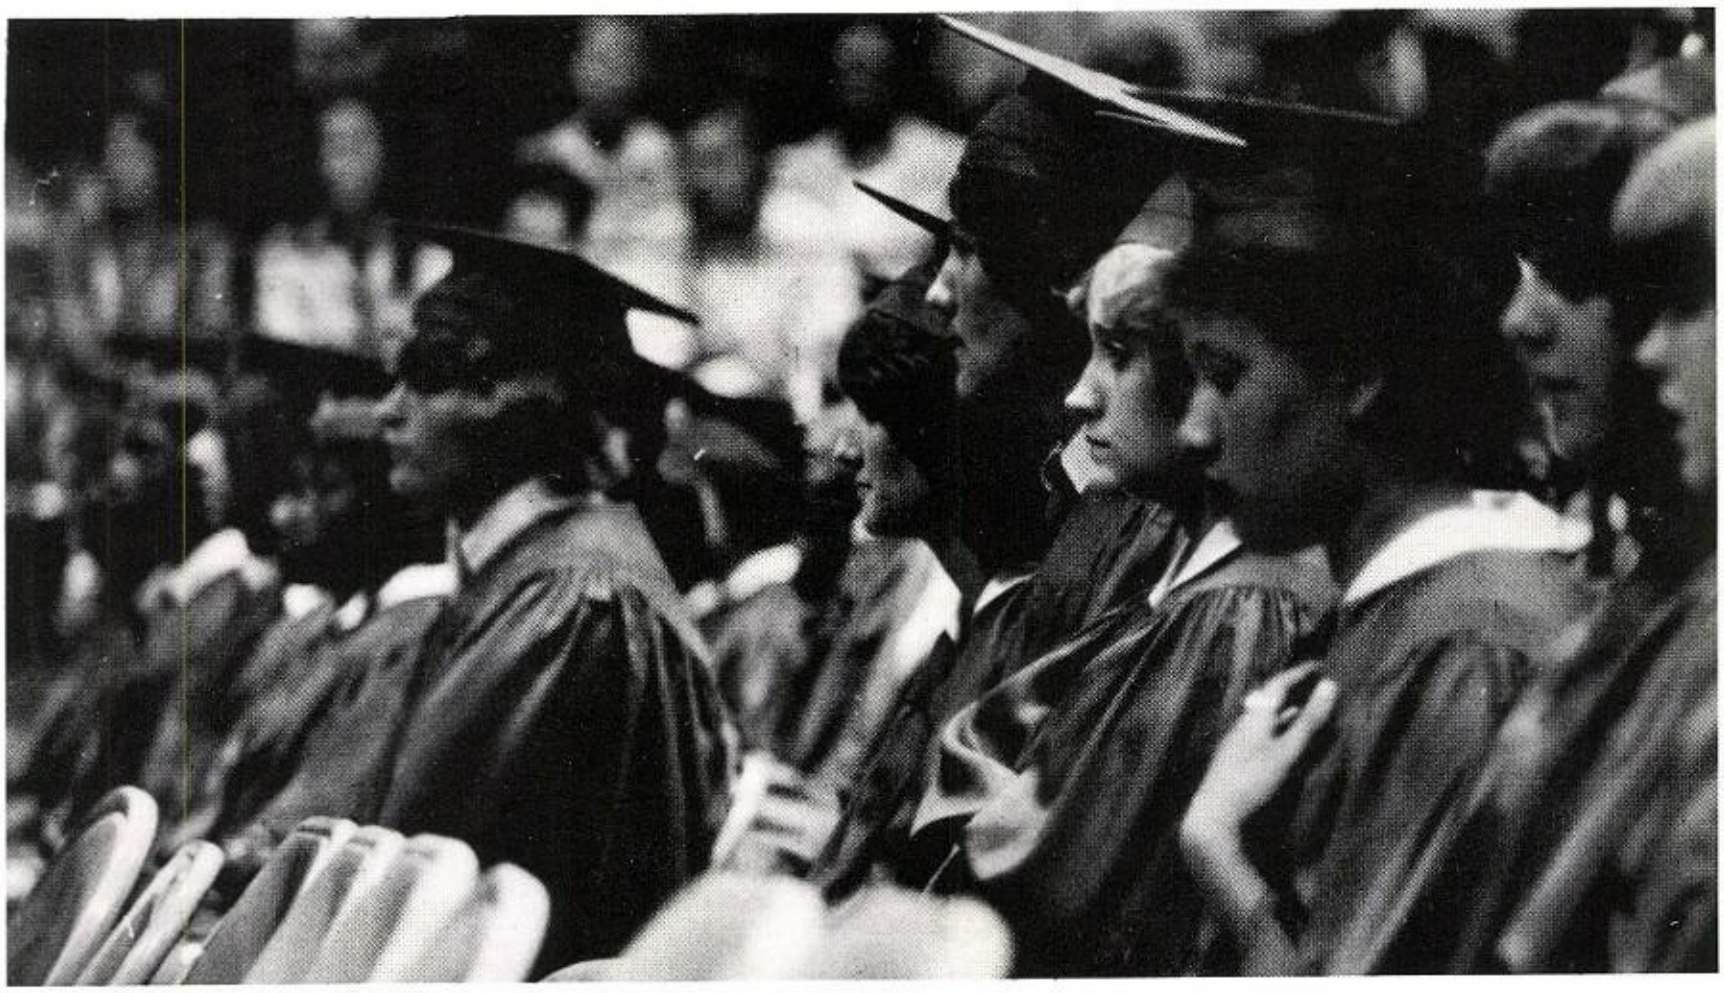
"E-nee-meeny-miney-moe."



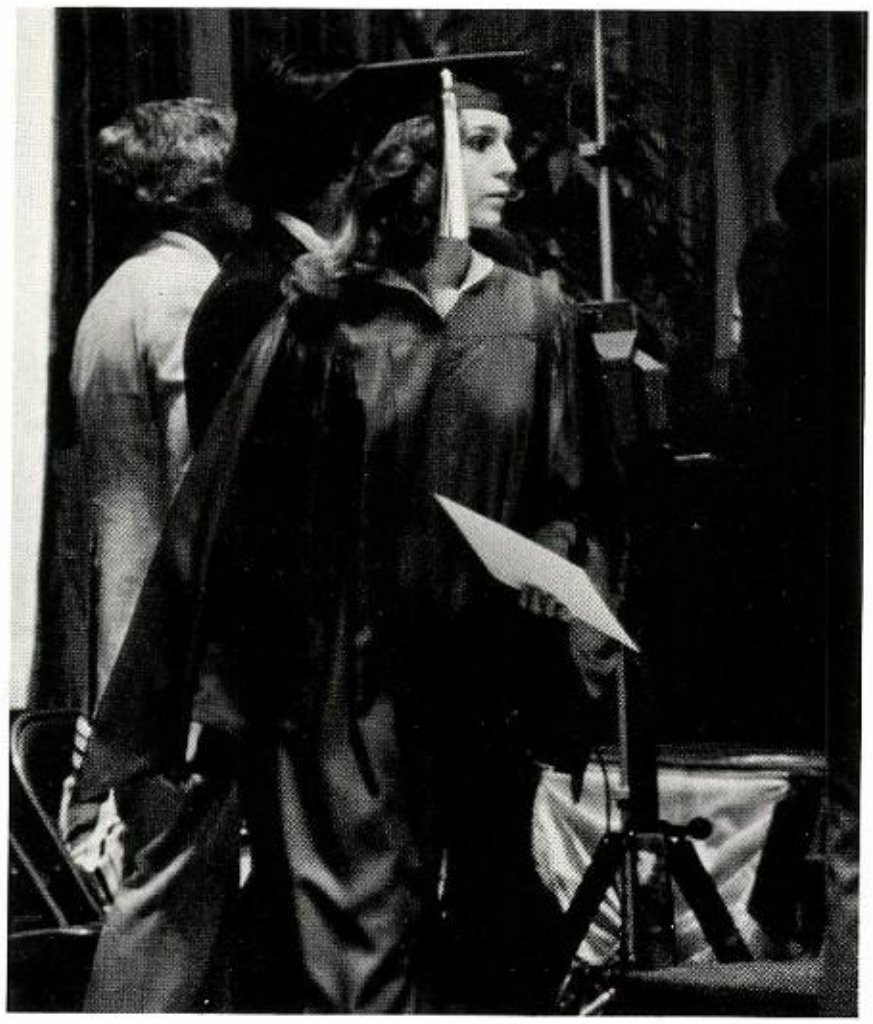
"I have friends in the Mafia, so don't use the middle name."



"Today J.T.: Tomorrow the world."



"Now Let's see, where does that row have to be before this row stands up?"

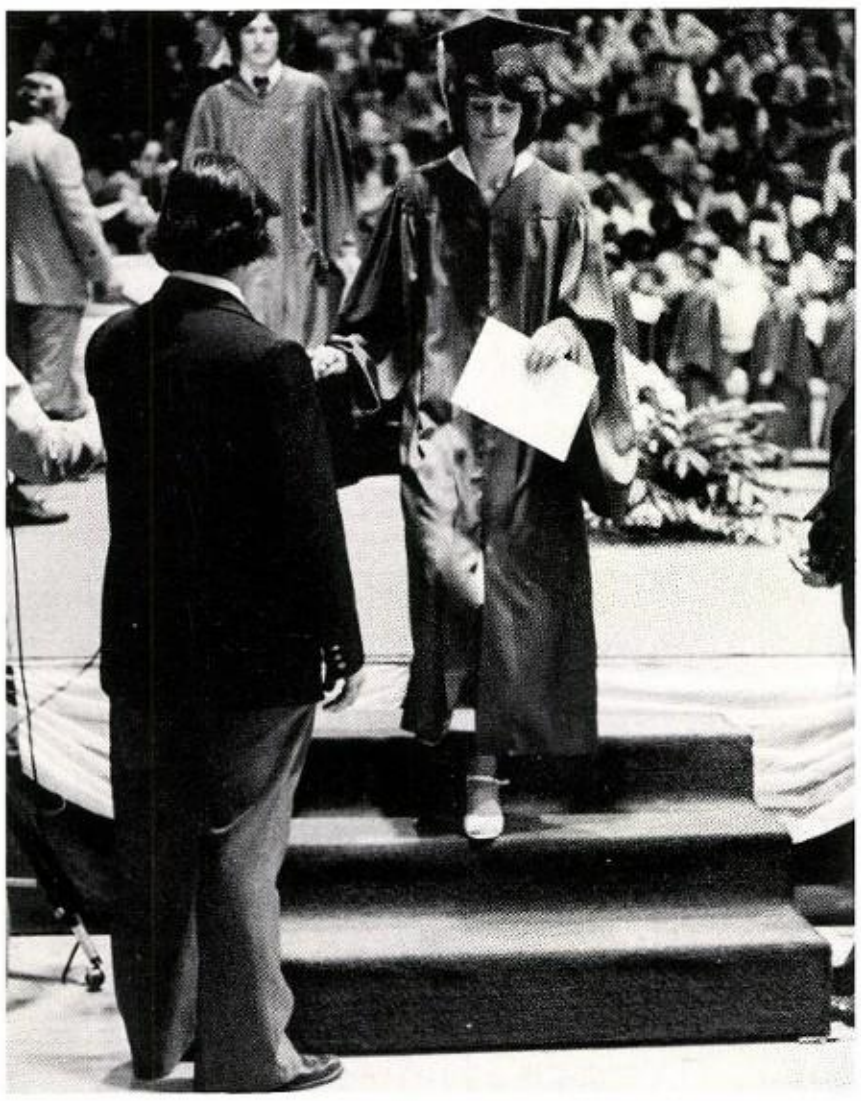


"My slip is showing? Under this??"

"'Say cheese?! What kind?"

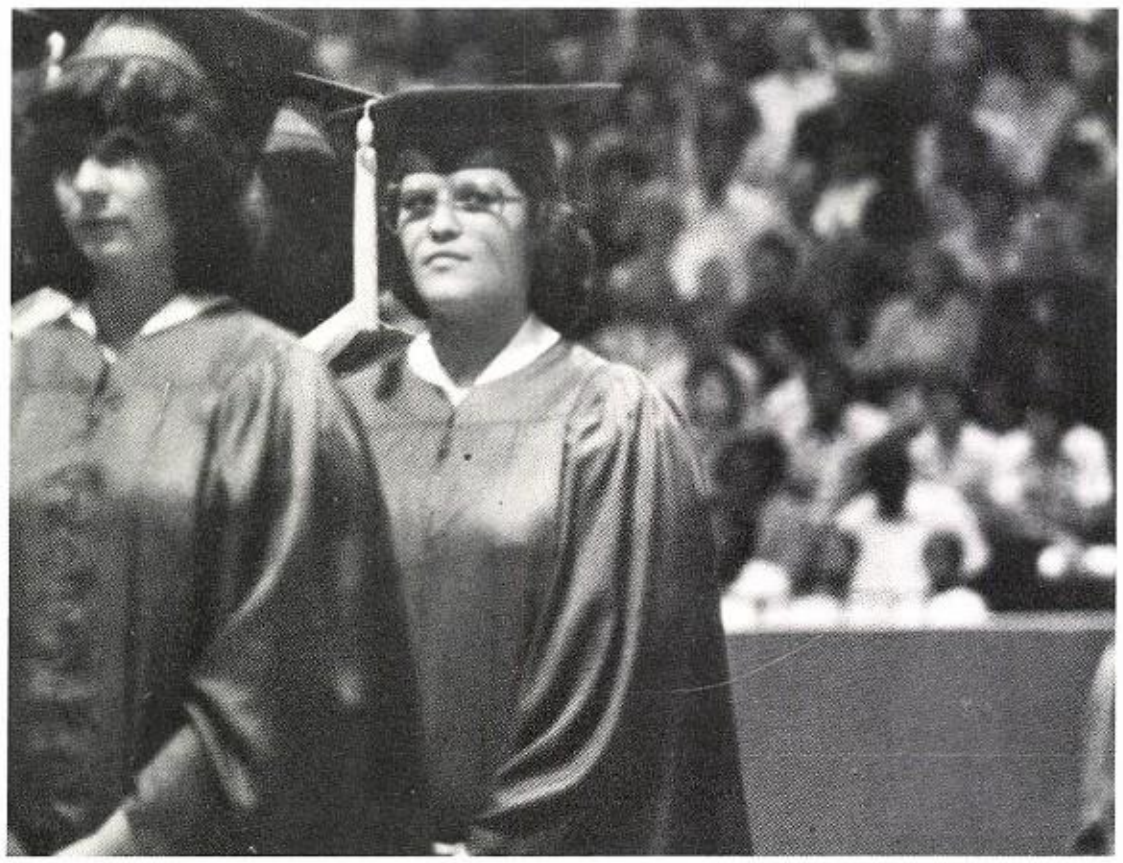
"Wasn't I the best one up there? Wasn't I?
Wasn't I??"

Truly "Pomp and Circumstance!"



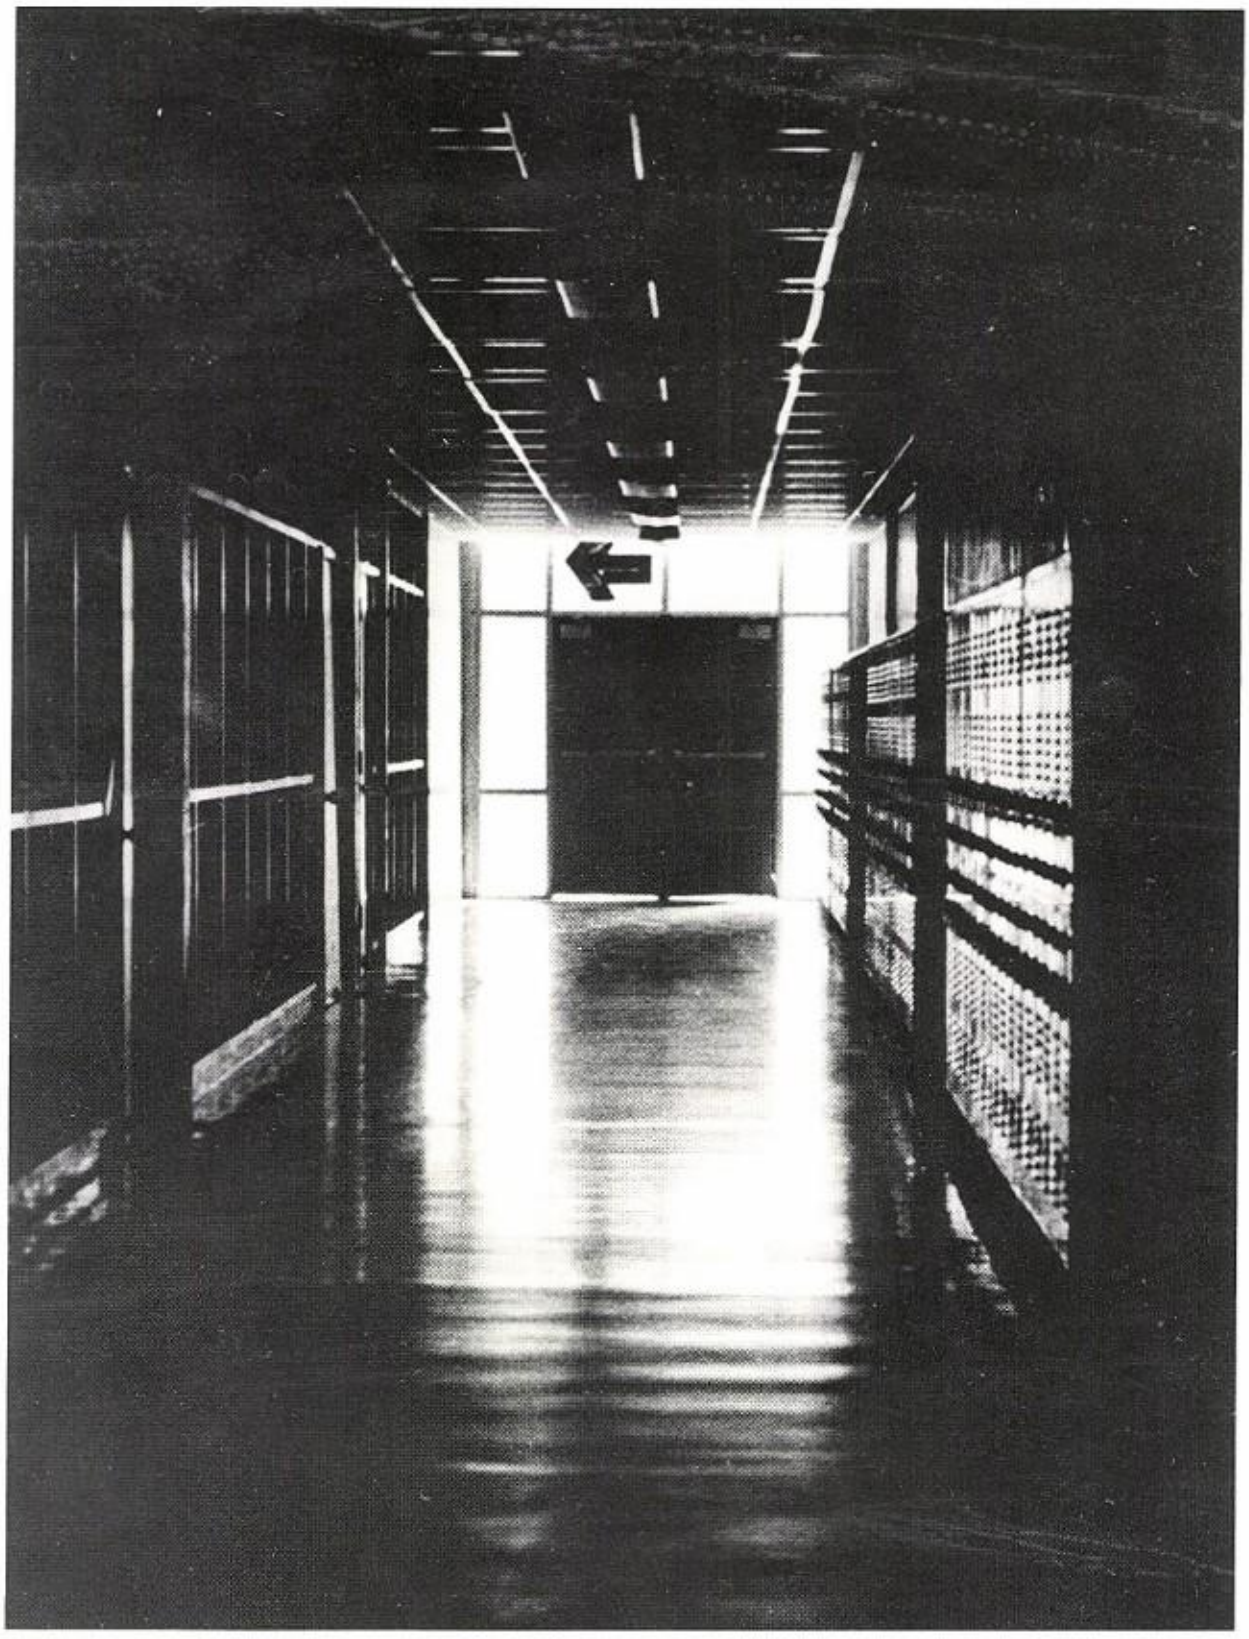
"Next time I'm wearing sneakers."

"But we had to come up here together: We're Siamese twins joined at the shoulder."



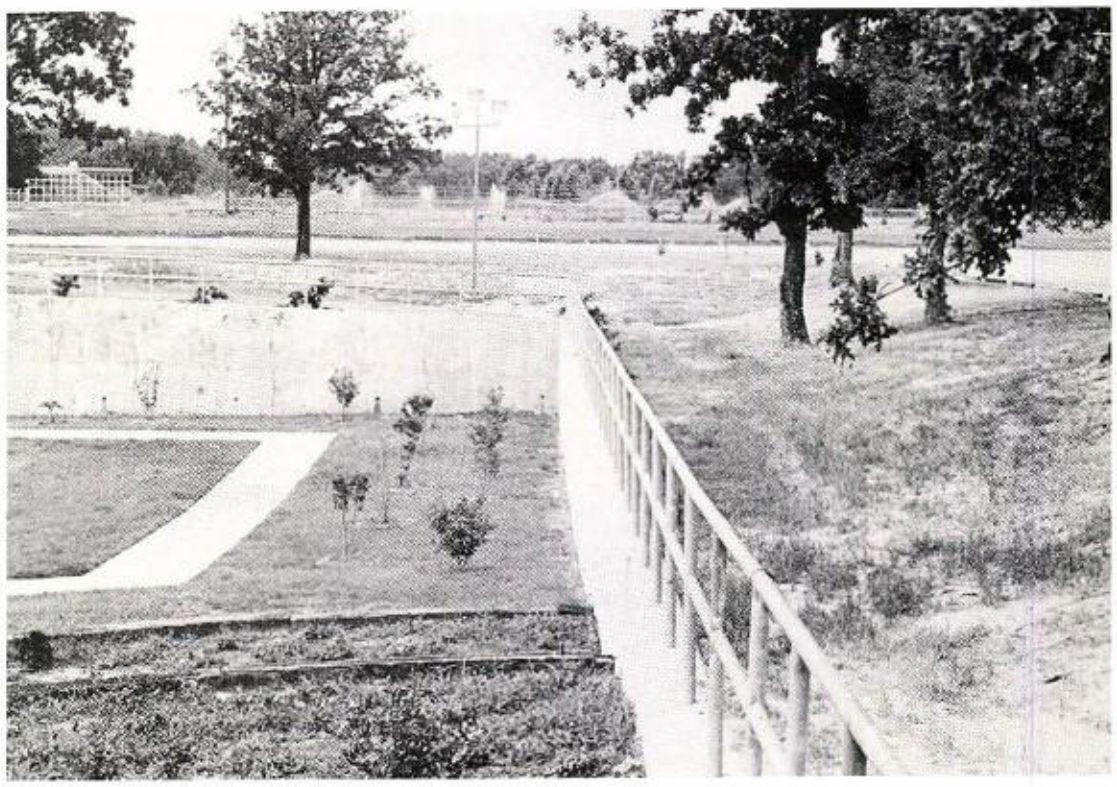
"Yep, just as I thought: By the time they get to the 'Z's' the audience is asleep."

"No, I don't remember much about graduation: "It's all sort of a blurr."

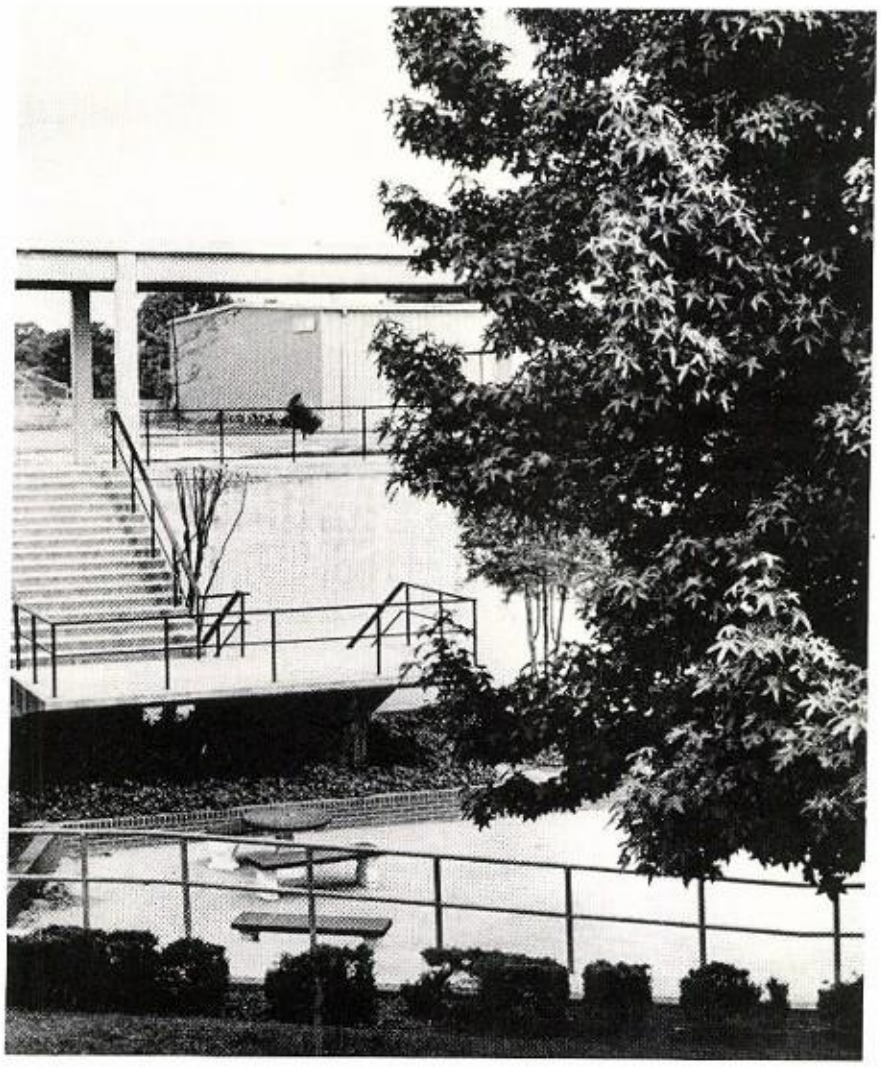


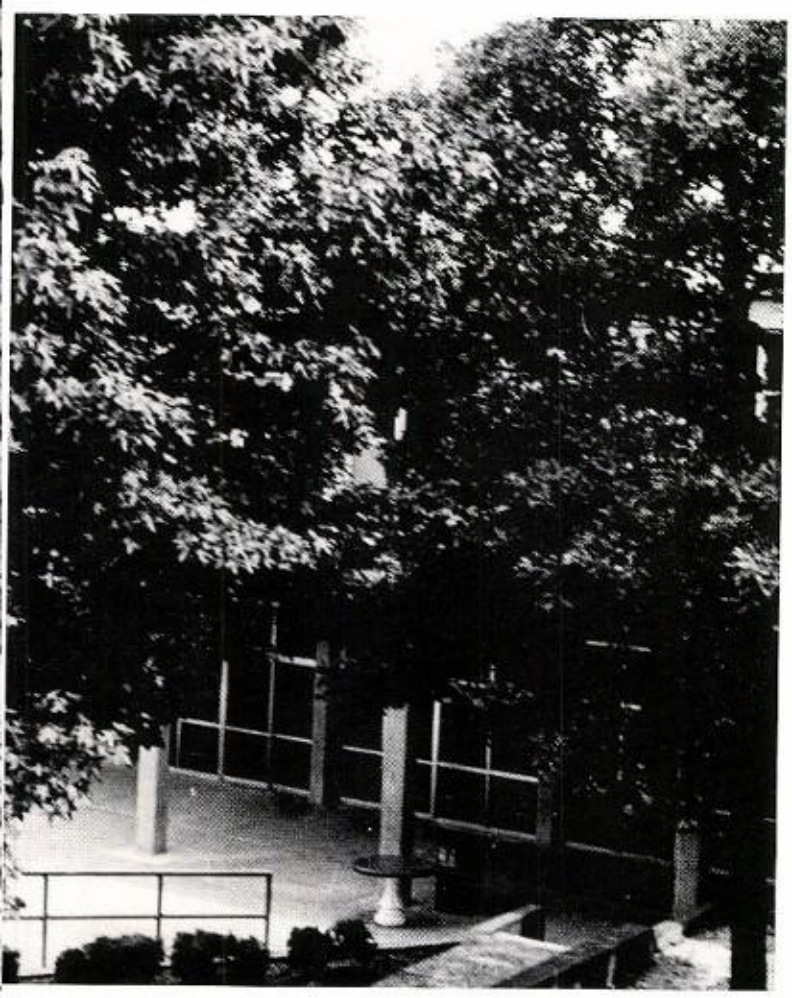
The Quiet Beauty of Our Alma Mater

Schools are meant to be active, noisy places of learning. John Tyler has certainly been that over the year! But there is a special quiet that pervades an empty school—a special, lonely loveliness not found anywhere else.



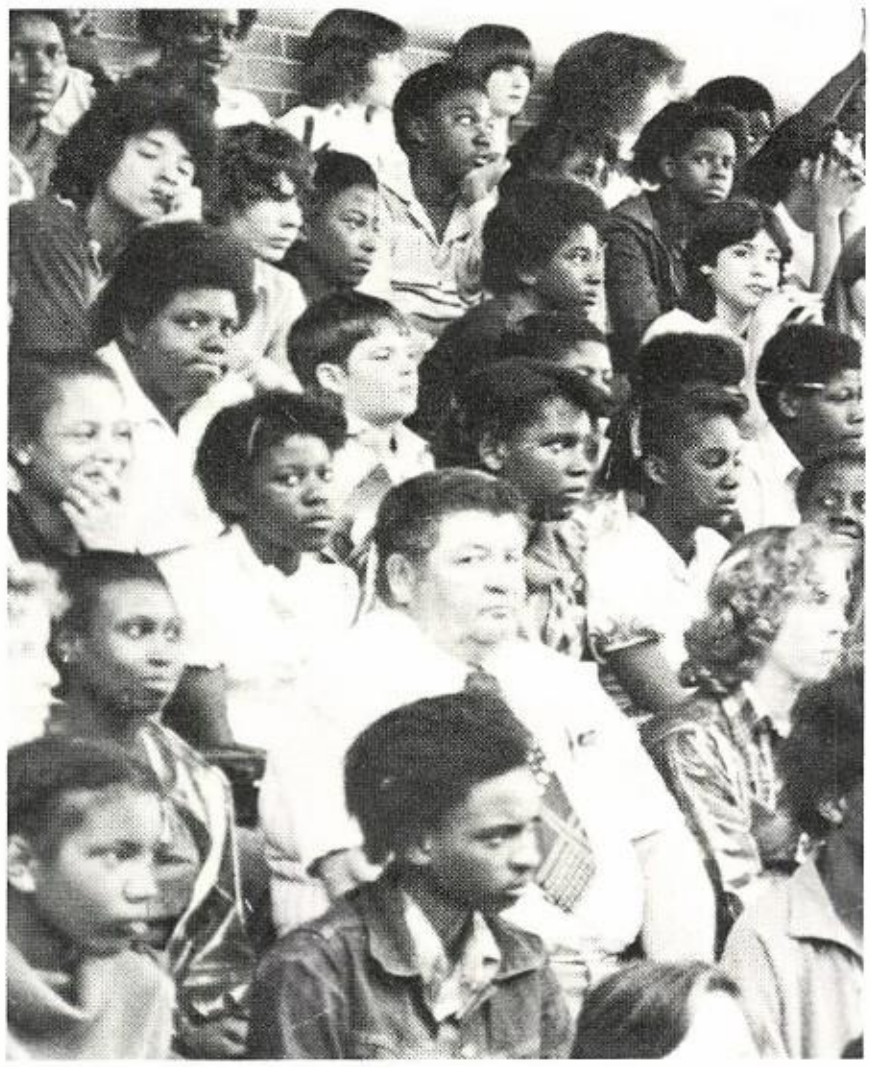
INFORMATION





As Lions We Show Our Spirit

"Robert E. WHO?"



"And they told me this was a Cowboy game."

"Are you sure Paul Bunyan started like this?"

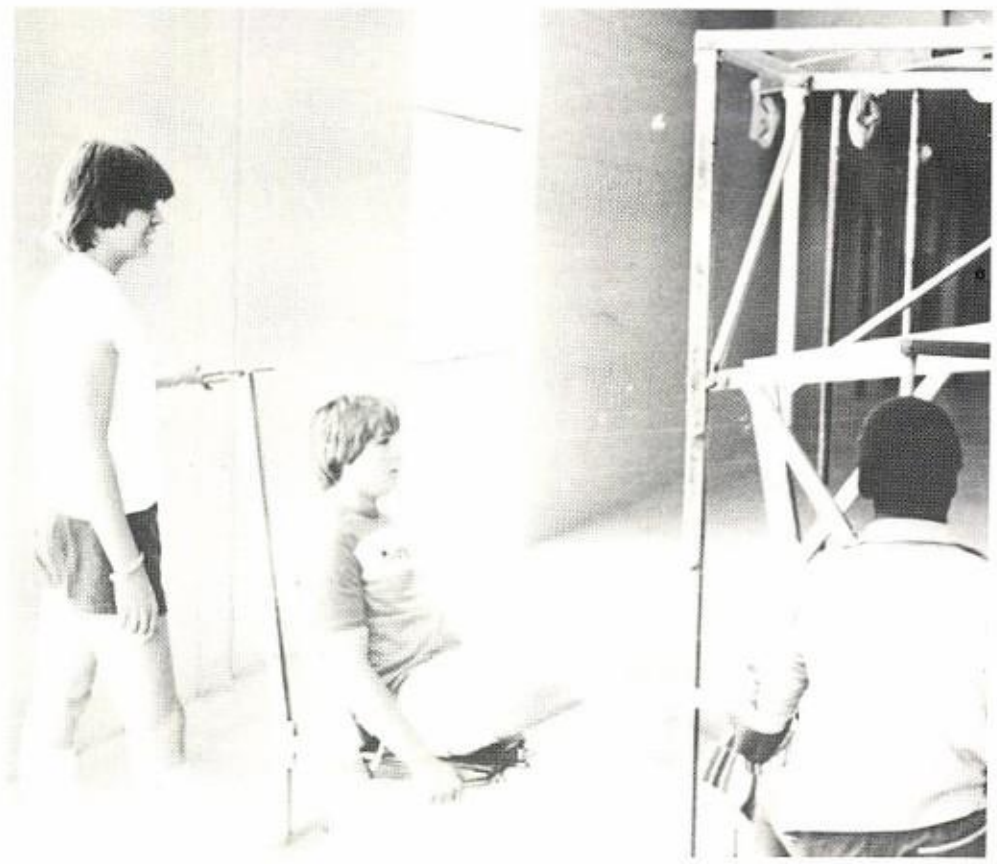
Inland Surfing

"Test? What Test?"

"See No Evil—Hear No Evil—Speak No Evil."
Well, not much anyhow.

Stephen Hubbard, David Sanchez and Bessie Walker help represent our school.

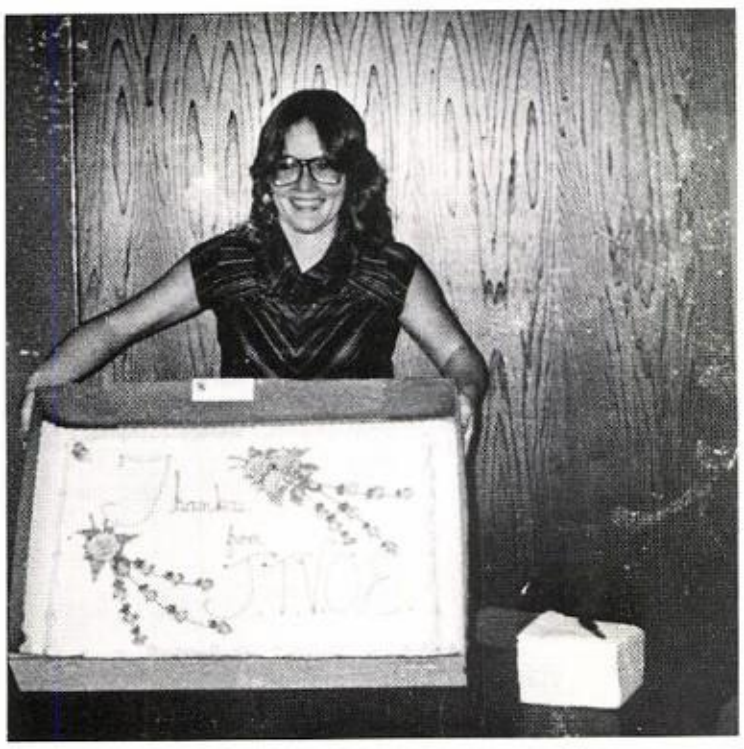
Through Participation in Activities at JT



"I promise not to be late to practice again 4,586,201."

The Tah Squad

"My group had 4% fewer cavities."



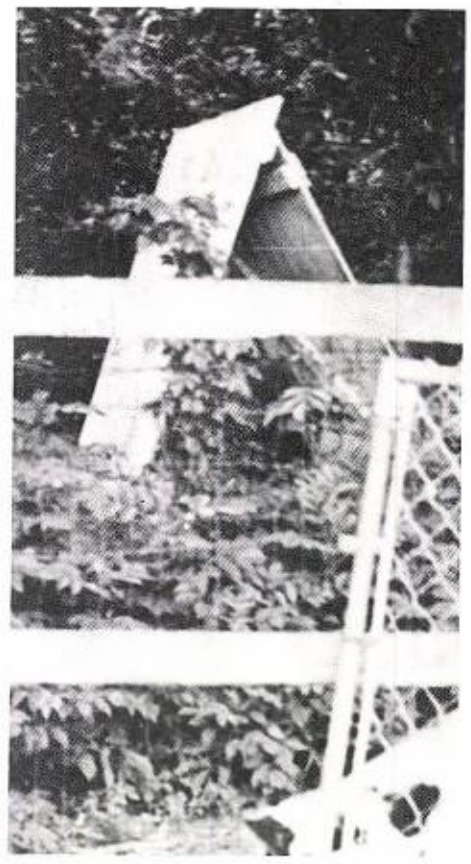
"Can I have a flower?"

"Are you sure the space shuttle started this way?"

"I don't mind only getting one mum—It's not getting any that gripes me!"

"Just let us know if you recognize your attacker, ma'am."

"Who is Ester Williams?"



A quiet, weekend retreat

And Away From School

"If Bossie gets the axe, so do I."

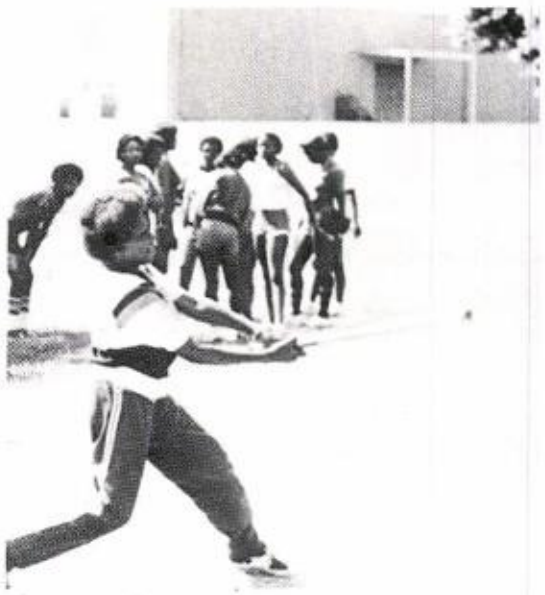
Mighty oaks from little acorns grow.

Who is this kid and what is she doing in our book?

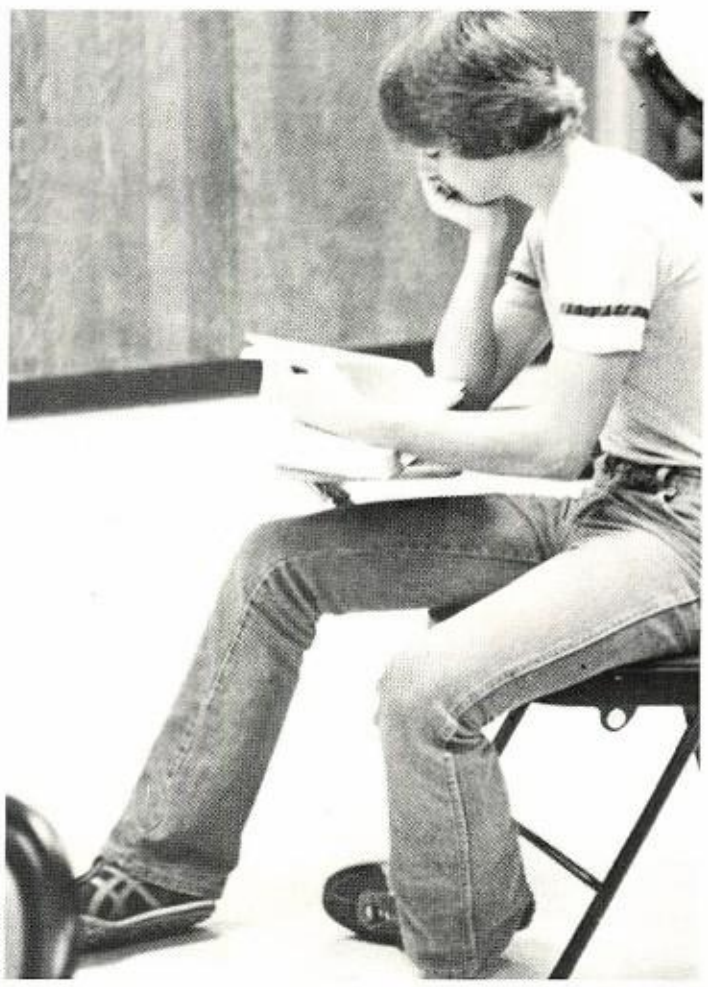
"The parade was Last week?"

We Create a Pride Which

"Neat class when I can stay awake."



Doing the softball hustle



"This is not what I call having a good time."

"Dates of the War of 1812? Which War of 1812?"

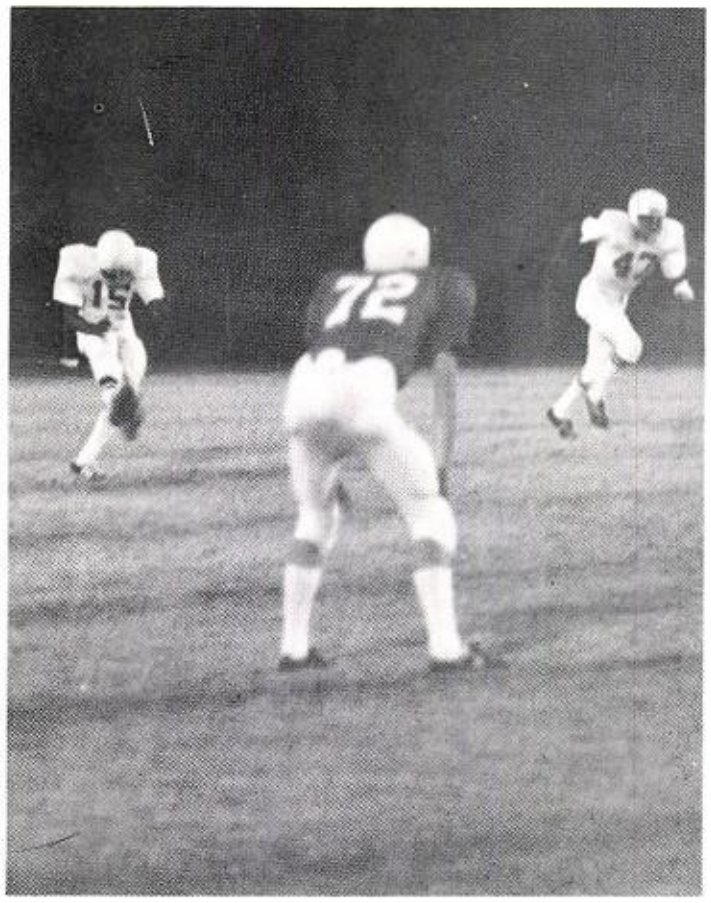
"Why can't they shoot this picture in January?"

"Can you tell I've had 14 years of ballet?"

"Are you sure Dr. Pepper started this way?"

When Combined With Love & Loyalty

"The next time you zap my girl with disappearing ink, you die."

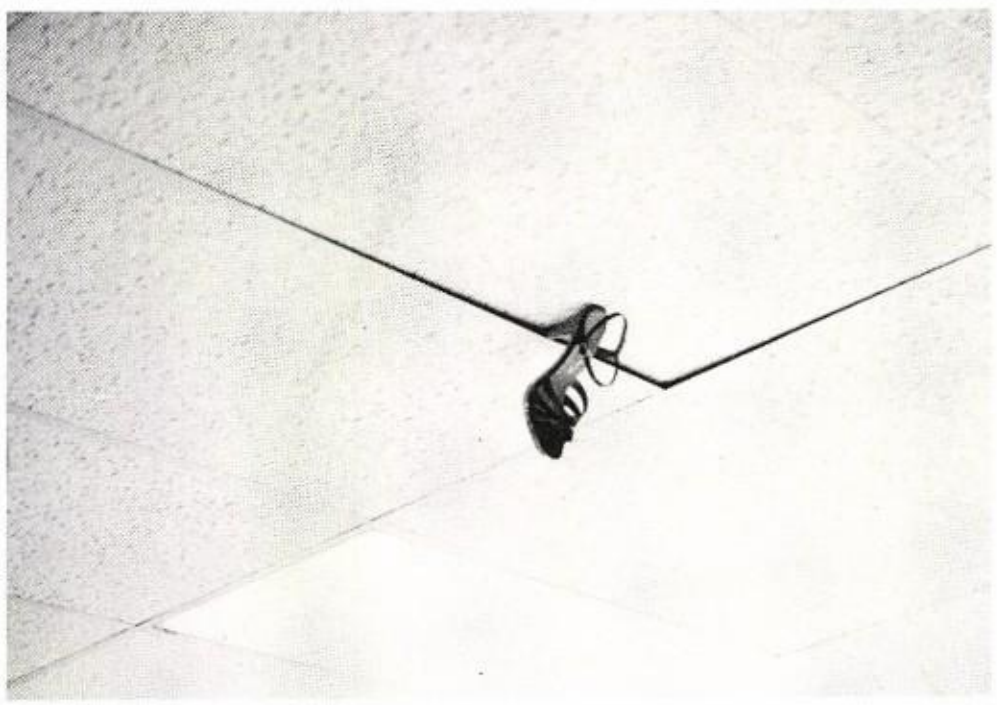


"If I live through this, I'm taking up golf."

"When it says "Libby's, Libby's, Libby's . . ."

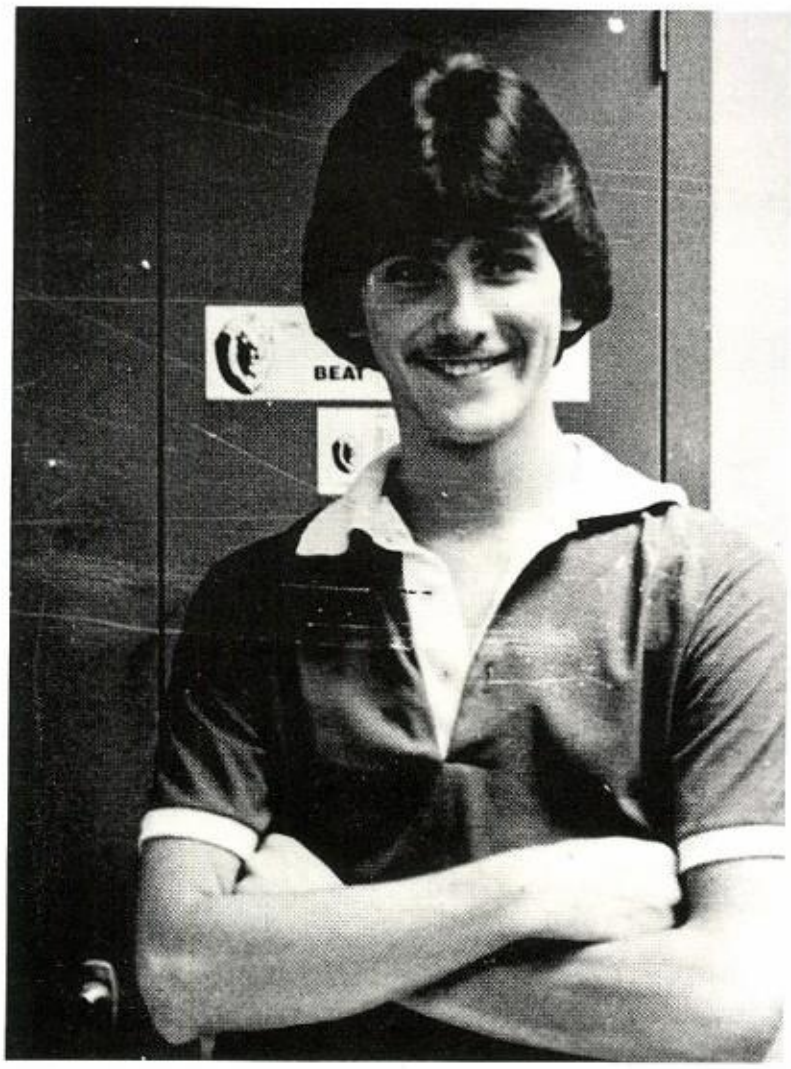
"I didn't get to the Boston Marathon by eating McDonald's."

"Is this what they mean by ERA?"

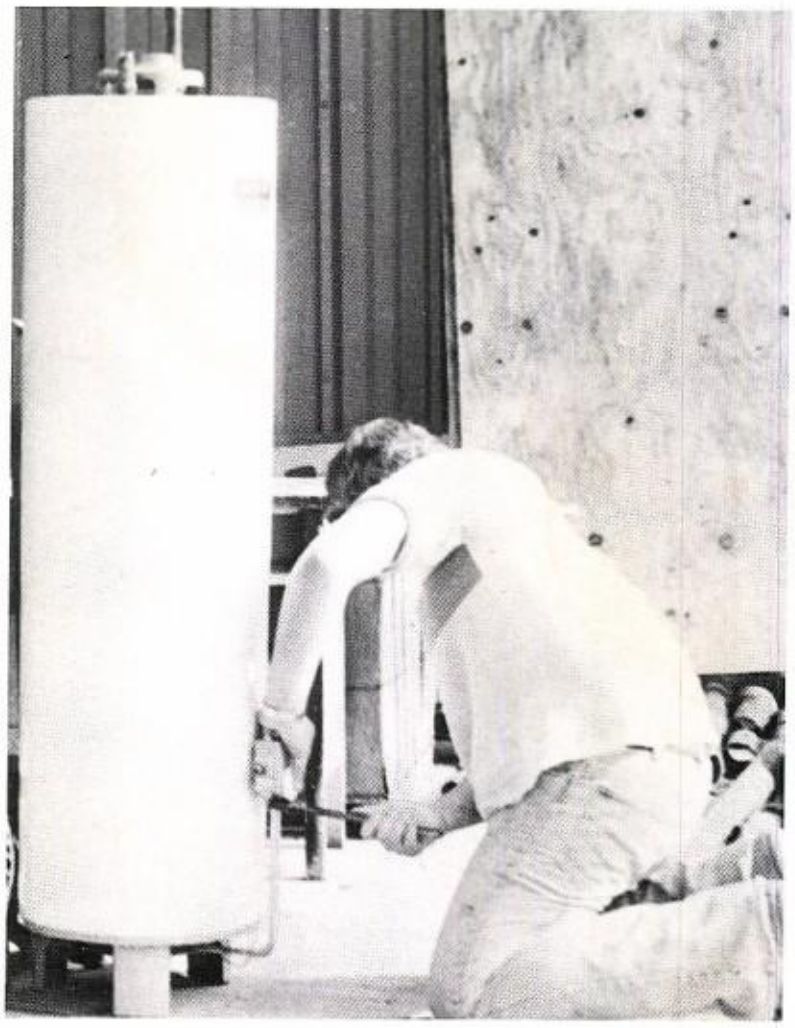


"You were expecting maybe Prince Charming?"

Serves to Maintain



"Wanna buy . . . M&M's, buttons, calendars . . ."



"Are you sure Howard Hughes started this way?"

"Flunkin Pride-time is no laughing matter!"

"I think I'm stuck!"

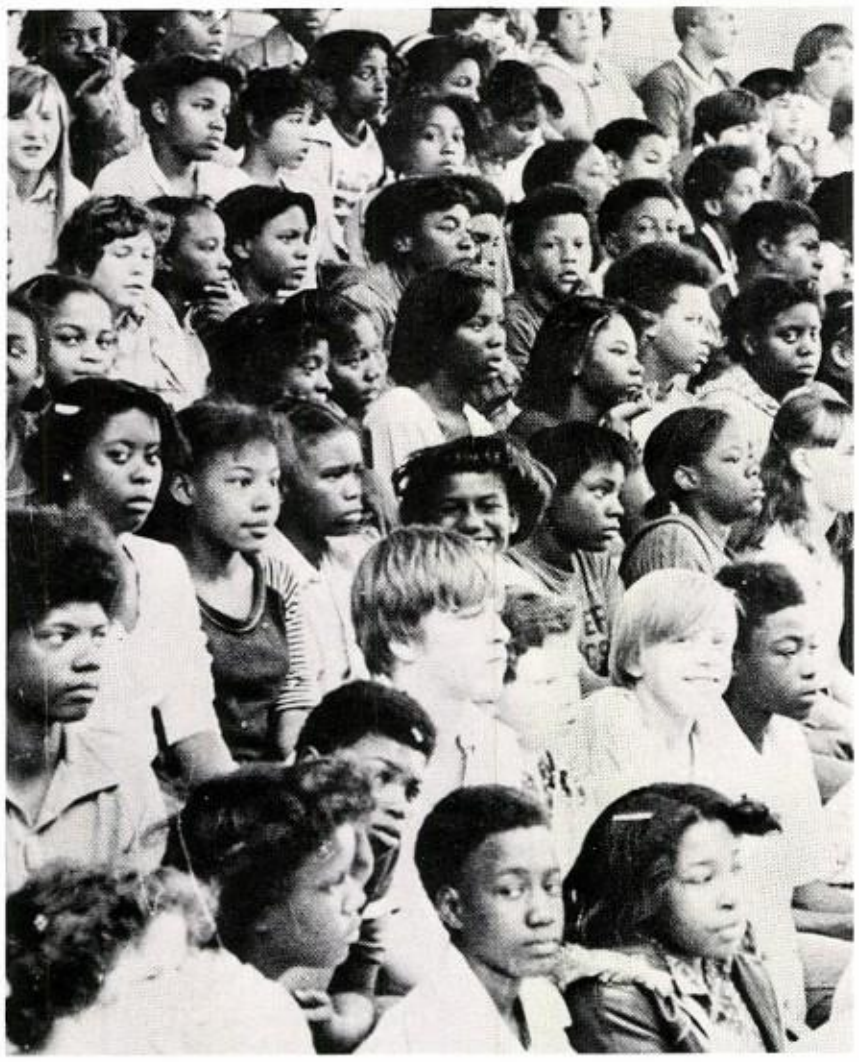
WELCOME, FRESHMEN



John Tyler High School welcomed its first freshman class in the fall of 1979. Confused, dazed, the brunt of jokes—they wandered the hallways—looking for classes, someone familiar, a friendly smile. By the end of the first pep rally, however, the newcomers had caught hold of the Lion pride and were full fledged members of the school. From football to debate freshmen participated in school activities, demonstrating in every way they had the spirit that keeps our school No. 1.

I've got the Power, it's plain to see
FRESHMAN
Freshman Class of '03' B.W.

Freshman Class Representatives for 1979-80 are: President Steve Hubbard, Vice-president David Sanchez, and Secretary Besse Walker.

Roses add still another change to the school.

We began this book with the intention of showing as graphically as possible the changes that have taken place at our school during 1979/80. We have not used many words because we feel the pictures tell the story better. The crowded hallways, the patio crowds, and even some classrooms gave way to some moments of privacy and solitude. The break gave way to Pride—the smoking area is gone and the multitudes of mums gave way to a single arrangement. A new administration ran our school district and, along with the freshmen, many new teachers took charge in the classroom.

The changes boggled the mind in the beginning, but in spite of them, many things remained the same. Most of all our students learned, made new friends, laughed and cried, just like they always had. In the end the senior class of 79/80 donned the traditional blue and white cap and gown and marched down the aisle to receive their diploma. As with the seniors of yesterday, and those of tomorrow, we know they'll carry with them always the pride and spirit that makes John Tyler High School.
